HOWELL MEN IN OLD HENRY ARE NUMEROUS

Large and Enthusiastic Gathering Hears Mr. Howell at McDonough.

POSITION AS TO PRIMARY MADE CLEAR BY HOWELL.

He Shows the Malignity and Falsity of the Charge That He Favors Barring White Men from Taking Part in the Primary.

By FRED LEWIS.

McDonough, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Henry county democrats gathered here from every quarter today, completely filling one of the largest court rooms in the state, to hear Clark Howell discuss the issues in the campaign for governor. Every section and every district in the county was well represented in the large audience which crowded both the main floor and gallery of the court room.

Henry county's voters have shown unusual interest in the situation and many of there have waited to hear from all of the candidates before making up their minds or taking definite stand. Since the superior court convened four of the candidates for governor have been heard here. Mr. Howell following the others today, and the result was that many Henry county citizens, at the conclusion of his address, openly and freely announced that they had made up their minds and from this time on would be found firmly in the Howell column.

Howell Warmly Greeted.

Mr. Howell was warmly greeted upon his arrival here by a delegation of friends headed by former State Senator Paul Turner, one of Henry county's most prominent citizens. During the morning at the hotel and at the court house Mr. Howell met many of the well-known citizens from every section of Henry county. Not a few of these expressed their pleasure at being able to meet and assure Mr. Howell in person of their interest and support of his campaign. Among the leading citizens of the county who met Mr. Howell here and who are his staunch supporters are P. W. Pullen and Ehret Adams, well-known farmers; Q. A. Dixon, of the mail service; John D. Dupree, cotton merchant; Ernest M. Smith, lawyer; Robert Chapell and John D. Royan, leading farmers; Thomas A. Sloan, merchant; C. W. Dupree and T. G. Jones, prominent farmers, and many others well known throughout the county. On every hand Mr. Howell met friends and supporters who gave him every assurance that they proposed to go into the fight with the purpose in view of placing Henry county in the Howell column.

Mr. Howell spoke in the court room at 12:30 o'clock. At that hour every seat in the room and gallery was taken, and still they were pouring in through every door until they were standing all around the court room wherever standing space was available. It was an audience which many declared surpassed that which gathered to hear the Hoke-Smith-Dick Russell joint debate a week ago. Men were even sitting on the tables and the floor in front of the speaker's stand, crowded everywhere until it would have been practically impossible for any more to have made their way in. It was stated by well-known residents of McDonough that close to 1,000 people were gathered in and around the court room.

Colonel Bryan Introduces Howell.

Mr. Howel was introduced to this magnificent audience by Colonel George W. Bryan, a well-known lawyer and former senator and representative.

"I have the honor to introduce to you today a gentleman who asks your suffrages for the office of governor of Georgia. He is known to you by reputation, if not personally. He is one of Georgia's chief and foremost friends, and has served his state in high stations and served it well. I have the honor of presenting to you today Hon. Clark Howell, of Fulton.

Applause and cheers rang throughout the court room as Mr. Howell faced his audience. It was a splendid reception, a greeting of which any speaker might well be proud. After thanking the citizens of Henry for the large gathering, and commending them upon the many evidences of progress and prosperity, apparent on every hand, Mr. Howell entered into a detailed discussion of the disfranchisement. Mr. Howell said he felt very much at home in Henry, for two reasons; because Fulton, his home county, had once been a part of Henry, and again, as a boy he had for some months been a resident of McDonough, being a member of the surveying corps of the old East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad for which service he had received the remunerative wage of $1 per day.

Disfranchisement Fraud Exposed.

In discussing the disfranchisement question Mr. Howell showed that such a law could be enacted only in the shape of a constitutional amendment, being presented to the people by a two-thirds vote of the general assembly, a vote under which the governor's approval or veto could cut no figure whatever. The governor could have no more power in dealing with this question than the humblest citizen. Still it had been made the dominent issue in the campaign in the furtherance of the personal political ambitions of one man. Mr. Howell showed that the price the people of Georgia would be called on to pay for such a law, would be the disfranchisement of thousands of illiterate but worthy white citizens all over the state, while at the same time

HER FINGERS CUT OFF TO ROB HER OF RINGS.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., April 24.—Passing through this city today, bound for Chicago, where her parents reside, was a San Francisco fugitive, who said her name was Miss Logan. She wore a bandage on her left hand, and says that while she lay unconscious upon the floor of the lobby of the St. Francis hotel in Sanfrancisco, after the earthquake last Wednesday morning, the third finger of her left hand was cut off and she was robbed of rings that she had worn there.

THREE HEROES WITH DYNAMITE SAVED WHAT'S LEFT OF 'FRISCO FROM BEING RAVAGED BY FIRE

STARVED DOGS FOUND EATING HUMAN BODIES

One of Gruesome Scenes that Followed the Fire---Blue Jackets Ordered to Kill All the Dogs in the City.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., April 24.—One of the gruesome scenes that has followed the fire was that witnessed on Telegraph and Russian hills, and along the entire north beach, front, of the city this morning, when scores of half starved dogs were found eating human bodies. The animals were discovered gnawing and tearing at the corpses half buried in the ruins. Where only a leg or an arm protruded the dogs were digging for the rest of the body. Men who had been sent into the ruins of homes to look for what little property that might have escaped the flames came upon this sickening condition, and reported it to the naval officers in command of the water front military districts.

In response to their appeal that something be done, bluejackets were detailed to cover the sections designated, and kill all dogs found in these vicinities. All morning firearms reports could be heard on the hill and along the beach, and the dogs were killed. Men were pressed into service, either to bury the carcasses of the dogs or throw them into the bay. In a few places some outgoing fires were found, and then it was possible to cremate the animals.

Thrilling Story of the Fight Made by the Dynamite Brigade to Stay the Spread of Flames.

DYNAMITE THUNDER MEANT SALVATION OF 300,000 LIVES

Million Dollars Worth of Property Blown to Drifting Dust, but That Destruction Broke the Fire—One Man Placed Guncotton and Another Man Touched Off the Charge.

San Francisco, April 24.—Three heroes saved San Francisco what is left of it. They were the dynamite squad that threw back the fire demon at Van Ness avenue.

When the burning city seemed doomed and the flames lit the sky further and further to the west, Admiral McCalla sent a trio of his most trusted men from Mare Island with orders to check the conflagration at any cost of life or property.

With them they brought a ton and a half of guncotton. The terrific power of the explosive was equal to the maniac determination of the fire.

Captain McBride was in charge of the squad. Chief Gunner Adamson placed the charges and the third gunner set them off.

The thunderous detonations to which the terrified city listened all that dreadful Friday night meant the salvation of three hundred thousand lives. A million dollars worth of property, noble residences and worthless shacks alike were blown to drifting dust, but that destruction broke the fire and sent the raging flames back over their own charred path.

Dynamited a Block Deep.

The whole east side of Van Ness avenue from Golden Gate to Greenwich was dynamited a block deep, though most of the structures stood untouched by spark or cinder. Not one charge failed. Not one building stood upon its foundations.

Unless some second malicious miracle of nature reversed the direction of the west wind the whole populous district to the west, blocked with fleeing refugees and unilluminated except by the

All Indications Point to Record-Breaking Attendance of Those Who Wore Gray.

LEE AND TANNER WERE JOINT GUESTS AT DINNER

United States Government Is Partaker in Festivities, the Cruiser Columbia Being Present—The Sailors Will March in the Great Parade.

New Orleans, La., April 24.—New Orleans tonight is in Gala attire, her buildings are draped with bright colors, her streets ablaze with bright bunting and fluttering from end to end with flags, in honor of the annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans' Association which will commence tomorrow morning. Every indication is for one of the most successful meetings in the history of the association. About thirty special trains arrived last night and this morning and it is believed that when the time set for the opening of the reunion has arrived, fully fifty trains additional will have entered the city. This is in addition to the regular service which has almost trebled in volume during the last two days, nearly all trains being made up in from two to four sections.

Government Takes Part.

The United States government, too, is a partaker of the festivities, the cruiser Columbia having been sent by the navy department especially to take part in the reunion as the direct representatives of the nation. The good people of New Orleans flatter themselves hugely on the appearance of the Columbia. They claim it is the first time that a real ship of war has been sent to participate in a confederate reunion. It is admitted that several years ago the Scorpion was sent to Memphis, where the reunion was held in that city, but then it is claimed by the Crescent City, the Scorpion is not much of a ship and it is a far cry from such a splendid four-funneled affair as the Columbia down to a boat which has only one smokestack and is not much larger than a pleasure yacht at best, and so New Orleans claims the only original ship of war present at a reunion of confederate veterans.

Meanwhile the Columbia rests at anchor in the Mississipi, a never ending source of entertainment and pleasure to the people at large and the veterans in particular who visit the boat in multitudes.

Sailors Will March.

Commander Bowyer, the commander of the cruiser, has said that the men of the

ALBERT HOWELL MADE PRESIDENT

Annual Election at Capital City Club.

At the annual election of the Capital City Club, an organization composed of four hundred of the leading business men of Atlanta, held last night Albert Howell, Jr., was chosen president over Dr. Hunter P. Cooper. The election was the result of a spirited contest, and the vote stood Howell 211, Cooper 94.

The only contest was that for the presidency. The following officers were elected without opposition: Captain William G. Raoul, vice president; Edward R. Austin, secretary and treasurer and E. C. Peters, John W. Grant and James H. Nunnally to fill three vacancies on the governing committee.

The vice president and committee members received 317 votes each, and the secretary 297. The vote cast was over twice as large as that of any previous election of the club.

The gentlemen voted for yesterday were nominated at the annual meeting held Monday night, at which it was decided to build a magnificent club house within the next 5 years. The annual dues were raised from $50 to $60. At a special meeting to be held in thirty days a proposition to raise the membership to 600 will be submitted.

The managers of the election were Dan B. Harris, representing Mr. Howell; Ulric S. Atkinson, representing Dr. Cooper, and Joseph Van Holt Nash, chosen by the friends of both candidates.

The polls were opened at noon and closed at 9 o'clock last night.

Mr. Howell, the new president of the club, served for 5 years as vice president under the late Major Livingston Mims, who was for many years its honored president and whose recent death created the vacancy filled at yesterday's election. Mr. Howell is one of Atlanta's leading attorneys, being a member of the well-known firm, Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & McDaniel, and is a son of the late Captain E. P. Howell.

Dr. Cooper is one of the most prominent and popular of Atlanta physicians. He is a member of the firm, Cooper & Elkin, and is allied with the leading hospitals and medical colleges of the city. For a number of years he has been an active member of the Capital City Club in which he has held various offices, including those of vice president and member of the governing committee.

Waynesboro Gives $500.

Waynesboro, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The citizens of Waynesboro today subscribed over five hundred dollars to the San Francisco sufferers, which will be forwarded immediately to the proper authorities for distribution. The subscription for the most part was voluntarily.

WOMEN ARE DRESSED IN MEN'S CLOTHING

Difficult to Tell Women from the Men---Women Say It Is No Time for False Modesty.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—In some of the provisional camps established for refugees, near the foot of Van Ness avenue and near Fort Mason, it was difficult this morning to distinguish men from women. Evidently the supply of women's clothing had been exhausted, for many women could be seen dressed in soft shirts or overalls. In this garb they were walking about their tents, unconcernedly preparing breakfast. It was no time for false modesty, and those who were able to make themselves comfortable in any sort of clothing were indeed fortunate. It has been suggested to the members of the finance committee, that stores of khaki bloomers and blouses be purchased for the women. They are preferable to overalls, and will in some measure save the feelings of the women whose wardrobes were lost in the destruction of their homes.

STRUCK WITH AXE WOMAN IS SLAIN

Mrs. Mollie Glover Found Dead In Her Bed.

Bristol, Tenn., April 25.—Mrs. Mollie Glover, a woman thirty years of age, was found dead in her bed at the home of Cyl Luttrell on Second street shortly after midnight this morning with her head split open and almost severed from the body. A large bloody axe found lying under the bed told the story.

The murder was committed about 11 o'clock and is shrouded in mystery, though Cyl. Luttrell has been arrested and is in jail on suspicion. He is about 57 years of age and an old employe of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company.

Luttrell, who was working last night, claimed that he left the house about 9 o'clock and locked the door and on returning about 11 o'clock found the door as he had left it, and, entering, found the bed coverings completely over Mrs. Glover, and things disturbed in the room. He says he raised the cover and the ghastly sight of the woman lying in a pool of blood with the bed clothing completely saturated, met his eyes and he ran.

Late Reporting the Murder.

Luttrell did not report the murder for an hour and when arrested was very nervous and told what the police regard as flimsy tales of the circumstances leading up to the murder.

It is believe dthat the woman was at Luttrell's house for immoral purposes. Luttrell has a wife and large family of grown children. The police say his past reputation in this respect has been shady and they do not doubt but that the relations of Luttrell and Mrs. Glover were intimate and she came to his house to stay during the night.

The woman was struck with the axe probably twenty times and the police have no clue to the guilty parties. Mrs. Glover had a refined appearance and was considered good looking.

GIRL'S ASSAILANT SLAIN BY FATHER

Was Taken from Officers by Citizens' Posse

Grosbeck, Texas, April 24.—While being conveyed to jail in the custody of two officers a negro, who, it is alleged, assaulted the daughter of J. A. Eastland, a farmer of Della, at an early hour this morning, was taken from the officers by a posse of citizens and held until the arrival of the girl's father.

When Eastland rode up he ordered the crowd to stand back and emptied both barrels of his shotgun, loaded with buckshot, into the negro killing him instantly.

There is no excitement.

'FRISCO SORE ON THE ACTION OF ROOSEVELT

In Giving Full Charge of Relief Work to the Red Cross Society.

San Francisco, April 24.—This was the seventh day since the earthquake jarred the city so severely and started the fires that laid it in ashes, and as on the preceding days, Tuesday took up the accumulated impetus of Monday, and added much volume of force of its own, so that Wednesday will dawn on a situation that is a long ways towards the normal.

Such marts of trade as remain unburned were opening for the transaction of ordinary business, temporary structures were being run up for the accommodation of others, clearing of the devastated area, of its ruins, was well under way, the inquiry into the condition of the bank vaults was completed, the organization and preparation for service of the street railways were so far advanced that the company expressed its readiness to resume business whenever the mayor would permit; the water company announced the completion of such repairs as enabled it to supply a total of twelve million gallons daily. In fact, there was all the evidence to put at rest now and forever the fears of those who predicted that San Francisco would never rise again.

Sore on Roosevelt.

The citizens of San Francisco had lone so splendidly in the face of such an appalling catastrophe that some little consternation was created this morning when President Roosevelt's proclamation was read, turning over to Dr. Edward Devine, of the national Red Cross, the management of relief measures and the distribution of the great funds so generously appropriated by congress and recommendations to the people of the United States that their contribution of food and moneys should be distributed from the same hand. If there were a monentary feel-disastrous glare on the water front, seemed safe by 9 o'clock.

Van Ness avenue is flat as the earth on the east side. Every pound of gun cotton did its work and though the ruins burned, it was but feebly. From Golden Gate avenue north the fire crossed the wide street in but one place. That was the Claus Spreckels palace on the corner of California street. There the flames were writhing up the walls before the dynamiters could reach it. Yet they made their way to the foundations, carrying their explosives despite the furnace-like heat.

Charge Placed Quickly.

The charge had to be placed so swiftly and the fuse lit in such a hurry that the explosion was not quite successful from the trained viewpoint of the gunners. But though the walls still stood, it was only an empty victory for the fire, as bare brick and smoking ruins are poor food for flames.

Captain McBride's dynamiting squad realized that a stand was hopeless except on Van Ness avenue. They could have forced their explosives further in the burning section, but not a pound of guncotton could be or was wasted. The ruined block that met the wide thoroughfare formed a trench through the clustered structures that the conflagration, wild as it was, could not leap. Engines pumping brine through Fort Madison from the bay completed the little work that the guncotton had left, but for three days the haggard eyed firemen guarded the flickering ruins.

The desolate waste straight through the heart of the city is a mute witness to the most heroic and effective work of the whole calamity. Three men did this and when their work was over and what stood of the city rested quitely for the first time, they departed as modestly as they had come.

WARD SHOE COMPANY.

It Has Opened Its Doors to the Public at 101 Peachtree Street.

The Ward Shoe Company has opened its doors for business at 101 Peachtree street. This company managed by Mr. E. E. Schaefer deals exclusively in men's shoes. It is the agent for the celebrated Florsheim shoe, which is known throughout the country as a popular brand of shoes. The Florsheim shoe ranges in price from $5 to $7. This necessarily makes it a high-grade shoe.

The Ward Shoe Company also handles the Worthmore shoe, ranging in price from $3.50 to $4. The Worthmore is a popular, medium grade shoe, yet at the same time gives satisfaction to those who do not care to give from $5 to $7 for the Florsheim.

This company opened its doors last Saturday, and is doing a satisfactory business. The fact that it is located at 101 Peachtree street, outside of the shoe district on Whitehall street, is attracting considerable attention. Their present position gives them an individuality in the shoe business of Atlanta, and the fact that this company carries in stock shoes in value from $3.50 to $7 shows their desire to please.

Mr. Schaefer, the manager, respectfully invites the public to call at his place. Every shoe in his stock is new. Everything is up-to-date. There you will find polite attention and a hearty welcome. Remember the place, 101 Peachtree street. ***

NO CHANGE IN PRIMARY RULE

Chairman Goldsmith Surprised at Erroneous Statements of an Afternoon Paper.

The statement made in an afternoon paper yesterday that the rules which have governed democratic primaries in Fulton county since the establishment of the Australian ballot had been so changed as to leave out all reference to democracy, was a great surprise to Chairman J. W. Goldsmith, of the joint subcommittee, which had had the arrangements of today's primary in charge.

"Not only is the statement that 'clause 7' was stricken from the rules adopted by the committee headed by Chairman Felder untrue," Mr. Goldsmith said last night. "but there has been no change at all. There has not even been a meeting of the joint subcommittee in nearly a month, and the instructions sent out for tomorrow's primary are the same as those that have governed democratic primaries in Fulton county for years past."

Why Perfect Beer Means Health

Good Beer Is Possible Only With Eight-Day Malt—A Scientific Fact.

A perfect beer is healthful—it builds up strength, promotes health, aids digestion and acts as a tonic in giving renewed vitality. A perfect beer is possible only with perfect malt, and a perfect malt can only be made by the eight-day process used by Pabst.

Malt is made from barley. Barley contains in its elementary form the constituents that go to build up the human system, bone, muscle, blood and brain. The process of making malt, as some of our readers may know, is much the same as the process of digestion. The grain is started growing the same as if planted in the ground. The chemical changes that take place in the growth of the rootlets when it sprouts are similar to the action of the digestive fluids in the body if the grain were eaten. The Pabst eight-day malting process thus retains in predigested form in the beer all of the nutritious, life-giving elements of the grain.

Pabst has proven by scientific experiments and years of practical brewing that eight days are required in making malt to bring about those necessary chemical changes by which the perfect predigested malt is produced. In many breweries the old shorter process is still used. This covers a period of not more than three or four days and the malt is of forced, unnatural development, lacks in nutrition and is in all ways inferior, much of the vital nutriment of the grain being lost.

Pabst eight-day malt, the perfect malt, doubles the cost of brewing—but Pabst Malt, with the exclusive Pabst method of brewing, makes Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer superior as a nourishing tonic and a delicious beverage. ***

DEATH ROLL TO REACH 1,000 SO THE CORONER ESTIMATES

San Francisco, April 24.—Coroner William Walsh today estimated that the total number of dead will not be less than 1,000. His reports are complete and his estimate is made up from all the data he has been able to collect.

Coroner Walsh said:

"Bodies deputy coroners have found and buried number 300 as follows:

At Polk and Bay streets, 32; at Portsmouth square, 23; at Washington square, 12; at the Six-Mile house, 200; at Laurel Hill, 32; scattered in different parts of the city, 10. No thorough search has been made of the district south of Market or the Chinese quarter. Many lives have been lost in these sections. South of Market street are the cheap lodging houses and many of these collapsed from the shock. There is little chance that half the inmates of the collapsed buildings had opportunity to escape. This is also true of Chinatown.

'Shortly after the earthquake soldiers and police, so I have been told, buried bodies found along the water front. I have received no official report of these. The total number of dead will undoubtedly reach, if it does not exceed, one thousand."

MEN WERE SHOT TO SAVE THEM FROM FLAMES

Three Persons on Blazing Roof Were Killed by Merciful Soldiers.

Salt Lake City, April 24.—That three men were shot to death on a blazing roof in San Francisco to keep them from burning alive is asserted by Max Fast, a garment worker, who came here yesterday.

"When the first caught the Windsor hotel, at Fifth and Market," said Mr. Fast, "there were three men on the roof and it was impossible to get them down. Rather than see the crazed men fall in with the roof and be roasted alive the military officer directed his men to shoot them in the presence of five thousand people, which they did. I saw great stones from the city hall fall on people, crushing the life out of them. In Union square I stood beside a woman who actually died from fright and thirst. Her last request was for water, and we had none to give her.'

Negro Ghoul Shot.

John Casnier, an old soldier from South Dakota, saw the military shoot a negro near the city hall. The negro had been robbing the corpse of a woman and to get a ring from her swollen finger, cut the finger off.

"The sentry on duty near Van Ness avenue," added Mr. Cashnear, "ordered a friend of mine who was entering his home to come out of there, as it was about to be dynamited. My friend waved his hand back toward the soldier, saying, 'This is my house and I have a right to go in. The soldiers instantly killed him. On the other hand, I want to say that the soldiers were generally kind and helpful and deplored these hasty actions of their comrades just as much as we did.'

Nothing could be more terrible than the calamity at Agnew's asylum, near San Joes, as described by R. L. Drinkwater, of Denver.

Lunatics Buried in Ruins.

He fled to San Jose from San Francisco only to find that he had gone from bad to wrose. He said last night:

"We went to Agnews, where we had a friend, and found the asylum in ruins and 200 lunatics buried there.

"It was a sight to transfix one with horror to see scores of men and women strapped to trees all over the grounds crying, cursing and shrieking. Ordinarily troublesome in their way, the excitement of the falling building made them troublesome indeed. Nothing could be done for them, as there was no place to put them, and every sane man, woman and child available was digging to release the other unfortunates buried in the ruins.

But most ghastly of all is the statement by Willis Ames, a Salt Lake man, who escaped to Los Angeles. He says:

"While I was walking about the streets I saw man after man shot down by the troops. Most of these were ghouls. One man made the trooper believe that one of the dead bodies lying on a pile of rocks was his mother and he was permitted to go up to the body.

Threw Himself Across Corpse.

"Apparently overcome by grief, he threw himself across the corpse. In another instance the soldiers discovered that he was chewing the diamond earrings from the ears of the dead woman.

"'Here is where you get what is coming to you,' said one of the soldiers, and with that put a bullet through the ghoul."

Already the beggars are seeking to profit by the misfortune of San Francisco and two men while begging in the character of refugees have been proved imposters.

Note—The "soldiers" referred to in the above dispatches were undoubtedly militiamen. All reports concur in the statement that they were reckless, while the United States troops seemed at no time to have failed in discretion or good conduct.

Still Anxious.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Wilson, are still distressed at not being able to hear from their daughter, Mrs. Annie Wilson Lyden, at San Francisco.

REGAL CO. AIDS SUFFERERS.

Manager Bliss Asks Managers To Organize Relief Bureaus.

E. J. Bliss, manager director of the Regal Store Company, of Boston, today telegraphed the managers of the 120 Regal stores throughout the United States instructing them to immediately organize San Francisco infants' relief bureaus. In accordance with these instructions every store will at once be prepared to receive and forward to the Pacific coast prepared foods, wearing apparel and other articles that can be used to improve the lot of the little sufferers in San Francisco and other afflicted towns. A postal card or message sent to any Regal store will at once bring a messenger or wagon to any residence for the purpose of receiving such articles. Mr. Bliss, who has been traveling in California for some time, was in Los Angeles on his way to San Francisco on the day of the earthquake. The fire dispatch received in that city indicated that perhaps the greatest sufferers from the earthquake were infants in arms. Thinking that their peril needs might be overlooked in sending food and clothing to this stricken city, Mr. Bliss took upon himself the task of supplying the deficiency. He immediately bought out the entire stock of food, nipples and bottles of every drug store in Los Angeles, and at the dry goods shops he secured large quantities of clothing. These were packed in four cars and sent to San Francisco by fast freight.

The arrival of these supplies in the earthquake city was regarded as a God-send by physicians and hundreds of mothers, and, no doubt, saved the lives of many infants.

Mr. A. P. Phillips, manager of the Atlanta Regal store, 6 Whitehall street, will receive and forward any donations made in Atlanta. Call Bell 'phone 2935, and he will send to your address for donations, if it is not convenient for you to send. ***

SUTTON DEFEATS GEORGE SLOSSON

New York, April 24.—All the professional billiardists who appeared in the international tournament which concluded last night and several of the leading aamteurs, took part in a benefit exhibition in the Madison Square Garden concert hall tonight. The sale of tickets realized a good sum, all of which will go to the San Francisco relief fund.

George Sutton, who finished second in the big tourney, deefated George F. Slosson in a 100-point game at 18-2 balk line by a score of 100 to 19. Sutton won in three innings, with runs of 4, 45 and 51.

Willie Hoppe, the young world's champion at 18-1, defeated Jacob Schaefer, of Chicago, at 18-1 balk line by a score of 100 to 13 in six innings. Louis Cure, of Paris, beat Albert G. Cutler, of Boston, 20 to 16 at three cushion caroms in 33 innings.

RICH MAN AND PAUPER IN THE BREAD LINE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Many of an interesting chapter might be given on the situation here but without question that which strikes one most is the equality upon which the millionaire and the pauper stand in this community. To see the man of means shouldering the poverty-stricken laborer in the long lines extending from the bakery shops, where the bread is dispensed, is almost as much of a spectacle as was the great fire itself.

'FRISCO SORE ON ROOSEVELT

ing that the men who had endured the heat of the burden of the day were being unfairly treated by this diversion of authority into new and foreign keeping, it was soon dissipated by the reflection that the action of the president was the result of misinformation.

At a conference at Fort Mason, attended by Generals Greely and Funston, Mayor Schmitz, Governor Pardee, Dr. Devine and some others, it was agreed that this was the case, and that Dr. Devine himself should frame a telegram to the president informing him of the splendid work already done, and of the perfect willingness to assist in forwarding the measures already taken.

What hurt even more than this was the suggestion made in the letter from President Roosevelt to Secretary of War Taft that reports had reached him that less charity was being shown the Chinese who dwelt here than the whites, and directing that if this be true the situation be remedied at once.

Protest to Roosevelt.

If the people of San Francisco are not in love with the Chinese it was felt that the name they have earned in the past for charity and open heartedness should have saved them from any reflection that they would have permitted any human bedinging—white, black or yellow—within their reach to suffer.

Mature reflection, however, brought the conviction that the truth had not reached the president, and a special message was sent him by the constituted authorities recounting the exact facts.

The message was as follows:

"President Roosevelt, White House, Washington: All reports that the people or the officials of the relief committees of San Francisco are making any distinction in relieving, succoring or protecting the Chinese or any other people differing in race or color, are totally false and entirely unfounded. The committees and even the helpless sufferers themselves are treating the Chinese and all other fellow unfortunates with all consideration worthy of our civilization and of our country. The people of San Francisco are striving with all their heart to relieve their destitute care for the sick, protect their helpless and uplift their stricken, irrespective of race, creed or color, in accordance with the dictates of humanity in a manner worthy of Americans, and in the common brotherhood of man. Please give press.

"E. E. SCHMITZ, Mayor.
"W. W. MORROW, President Red Cross.
"F. J. SIMMS, President of the Merchants' Association.
"J. P. PHELAN, Treasurer Relief Committee.
"RABBI VORSANGER Committee on Hunger.
"CATHERINE FELTON, Secretary Associated Charities.
"FAIRFAX H. WHEELAN, Committee Sick and Helpless."

Housing the Homeless.

The work of housing and feeding the homeless and of reconstituting the sanitary conditions, already far advanced Monday, were carried on with tremendous energy. It is certain that no one is hungry in San rFancisco tonight unless he is wilfully so. There is food for all, and the method of distribution has been so perfected that it is within reach of all. As for the he conditions there is, considering all circumstances, nothing to be desired. An investigation of the sewers have shown that they were not so badly damaged as feared, and while there were breaks, they have been repaired. There has been no outbrak of disease of a contagious character, nor is any feared.

KNOCKING DOWN A FENCE NOT DISORDERLY CONDUCT

WHETHER the knocking down of a fence in a rather vigorous manner was to be construed as disorderly conduct was the issue which came up before Judge Broyles yesterday afteroon as a side-light in the case of Huff v. Curtis, which is pending in the superior court.

It was claimed by the prosecution in the police court, that Huff, who is a negro residing at 81 Angier avenue, becoming angry because Curtis had erected a 7-foot fence in front of his property, went out with an ax and did most violently and boisterously and to the annoyance of a whole neighborhood, proceed to demolish the said fence in the space of about 10 minutes.

The circumstances which led up to this unique trial date back more than twenty years ago, when Huff bought his little plot of ground. Now Curtis, a white man, claims to own a triangular plot of ground tapering from 4 feet to 18 inches, which lies between the negro's property and the street. About this small pit of land a controversy has raged since the early nineties, and the two property holders, after trembling upon the verge of legal precipices for 15 years, have at last fallen over.

Curtis not long ago built a fence directly in front of Huff's house, a fence of the proportions of a bill board, shutting the negro entirely in, and making it necessary for him to go in and come out of his residence by the back entrance.

Huff chafed when he saw the workmen erecting the fence, and his spirit waxed fierce as it rose higher and higher and shut out of his face the light of day. As he contemplated the barrier day by day, his wrath became stronger, and at last he applied to the firm of Bell, Pettigrew & Bell for advice. George Bell, of this firm, told the negro to remove the fence, and Huff removed it!

He himself admitted that it required only ten minutes to demolish the 45 feet of pannels and Curtis' attorney, E. H. Frazier, described the air, during the demolition of the fence, to be full of flying timbers, splinters, nails and all manner of debris. Witnesses testified that the street became full of excited and that the entire neighborhood was interested in the tearing down of the fence.

Judge Broyles decided that Huff's tearing down of the fence, even in an unusually energetic style, did not constitute disorderly conduct, and the case was dismissed. It was understood, of course, that whether Huff had a right to tear down the fence at all, was not a matter to be decided in the recorder's court.

"I think," said his honor, to Curtis, in deciding the case, "that if Huff had been tearing down a fence at your direction, and had done it in the same way as he removed this one that you would have made no case against him."

"BY GEORGE," SAID TEDDY, "'TWOULD BE A PLEASURE"

MACON, GA., April 24.—(Special.)—Hon. N. E. Harris, who has just returned from Washington, where he called on the president, found him dealing in incidents connected with his southern trip and remembering that he was again in conversation with the president of the board of trustees of the Georgia Tech, he paid the school a high tribute.

"I was wonderfully struck with your school," said he, to Mr. Harris. "It is a fine school—that school you have down there in Atlanta." And when Mr. Harris thanked him he extended a warm invitation to the president to come down again.

"By George, that would be a pleasure," he replied. He seemed highly pleased with the brief visit and the invitation from the president of Tech's board to come down again.

JOHN PAUL JONES IN FINAL REST

Thousands Attend Sepulture Of Remains at Annapolis

Address Made by President Roosevelt, and United States and French Warships Were in the Bay in Honor of Great Sailor.

Annapolis, Md., April 24.—Reverently attended by the official head of the nation he loved and served so well, by the ambassadorial representatives of the land in which he died, by the chief executive of the state beneath whose sod his bones will find their final rest, and by thousands of the men and women of the country whose first admiral he was, the remains of John Paul Jones were today given sepulture in the crypt beneath the grand marble stairway of Bancroft hall, there to rest until the completion of the chapel in which they are to be deposited.

Crowds such as the ancient capital of Maryland has not known for many years, if ever before lined the streets and stood expectantly about the railroad station long before the train bearing President Roosevelt and his party arrived. President Roosevelt, accompanied by Admiral Sands entered an automobile and, led by the cavalrymen, the party proceeded to the naval academy.

Casket in the Armory.

Early this morning the casket containing the remains of the long dead admiral had been removed from the temporary vault in which they have rested since being brought from France, and deposited in the new armory of the naval academy.

Out in the bay, miles distant but most of them clearly visible from the naval academy, rode at anchor three great warships flying the tri-color of France—the Admiral Aube, the Conde and the Marseilles, first-class cruisers all, under the command of Admiral Campion. Beside them were the United States battle ships Alabama, Indiana and Iowa, the cruisers Cleveland, Minneapolis, Des Moines, Denver and Colorado and the yacht Mayflower.

From these came more than 1,500 sailors and marines, two hundred of the former being from the French vessels. They were formed into long lines of brawny men lining the route to the armory taken by President Roosevelt and the other dignitaries.

The President's Address.

When the president entered the armory it was to face ten thousand standing, cheering men and women. He was introduced by Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte. The president devoted his brief address to a tribute to John Paul Jones.

Addresses were delivered by Ambassador Jusserand, General Horace Porter and Governor Edwin Warfield, of Maryland.

The audience rose and remained standing while body-bearers selected from the petty officers of the United States and French warships, lifted the casket and bore it from the armory. Just outside it was placed upon a truck, drawn by long lines of sailors, and the procession moved slowly toward Bancroft hall. The casket was followed by the French and American naval officers, and the president and Admiral Sands. When the casket had been placed beneath the stairway, where it is to rest under constant guard, Chaplain Clarke said a brief prayer, and the ceremonies were at an end.

Faithful Stewardship

"THE Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company does not 'keep the word of promise to the ear and break it to the hope.' To those who are honest and straightforward, life insurance is a very simple proposition—with all its intricate machinery and algebraic formulas. No better illustration of its simplicity is at hand than the debit and credit account of the Mutual Benefit with its policyholders since organization to January 1, 1906. What is the meaning of these figures? Well, let's see. Of every $100 received by the company from members the latter receive back $117.41—to say nothing at all of the cost of doing the office and field work for sixty-one years."—Assurance, New York, February, 1906.

Says the Body Is Like a Watch

If You Do Not Keep It "Wound Up" It Is Certain To "Run Down."

A physician writing of the human body compares it to a watch. The heart is the main spring, the stomach the regulator and what we put into it is the key by which the machine is wound up. According to the quality of what we eat and how we digest it will be the pace of the pulse and the action of the system in general.

Good food, well digested, will give you strength and energy. Without good food which your stomach can digest easily you will "run down," just like a watch runs down if it is not wound, and just as surely.

No other food is so rich in nutrition as Malta-Vita, and we know of no other so easily digested. This is why Malta-Vita gives the human body so much strength and energy.

Malta-Vita is the whole of the best white wheat, cooked and steamed, mixed with pure barley and malt extract, then rolled into little wafer flakes and baked crisp and brown. The wheat contains every food element required by the human body. In its natural form, however, the wheat is not easy to digest because of its starch. The exclusive Malta-Vita process overcomes this disadvantage and turns the wheat into "The Perfect Food."

The thorough cooking and steaming breaks down the starch cells and the malt extract converts the starch into maltose, or malt sugar. Maltose is highly nutritious and the weakest stomach digests it easily. All its elements of strength and energy are taken up by the system, forming rich, red blood and supplying the body with vitality.

And Malta-Vita is so good to eat! No other food has that delicate, satisfying Malta-Vita taste. Just as delicious as wholesome. All grocers sell Malta-Vita. Now 10 cents.

VETERANS MEET AT NEW ORLEANS

The commander was the guest of honor tonight at a dinner given by a number of prominent business men of the city. A majority of the subordinante officers of the Columbia were also present.

Three years ago when the veterans were the guests of New Orleans the meetings were held in an auditorium erected in the inclosure of the race track at the Fair Grounds. This was in a measure inconvenient, because of its distance from the business center, but this year that difficulty has been avoided by the erection of a huge temporary building at the corner of St. Louis and Royal streets, in the very heart of the city. Much money has been expended in its preparation and adornment, and tonight when the final touch was put to the extensive decorations it was declared by those who have been present at all the reunions of recent years to be one of the finest and most beautiful structures in which the reunions have ever been held.

The old St. Louis hotel, empty now for some years, which stands directly across the street has been refurnished and thousands of cots have been placed within it for the accommodation of the veterans.

Reunion Begins at 10 O'Clock.

The reunion will be called to order tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock by General Albert Estopihal, commander in chief of the Louisian division of the confederate veterans who will deliver the opening address. He will be followed by Governor Blanchard who will extend a welcome in behalf of the state, while Mayor Behrman will speak for the city of New Orleans. Charles Payne Fenner will make a short address as the representative of the Sons of Confederate Veterans. J. B. Sinnott first vice president of the citizens' executive committee will welcome the Sons of Veterans and will present the hall to General S. D. Lee, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans, who will accept it and then deliver his formal address as presiding officer of the reunion.

The feature of the afternoon will be the oration of Judge James B. Gantt, of Jefferson City, Mo., who is the major general commanding the Missouri division of the confederate veterans. The various organizations affiliated with the United Confederate Veterans have opened headquarters, and will commence their work tomorrow. The United Daughters of the Confederacy are at the Layton house, on St. Charles street, the Confederate Southern Memorial Association has opened headquarters in Progressive Union hall on Camp street, while the Sons of Veterans are located at the St. Charles hotel.

Among the prominent members of the United Confederate Veterans who have already arrived for the convention are General C. Irvine Walker, commander of the Northern Virginia department. General George Gordon, of Memphis, commander of the Tennessee division; General Clement A. Evans, of Atlanta; General W. L. Cabell and General Virgil G. Cooke, formerly of Forrest's cavalry.

Lee and Tanner Dined.

New Orleans, April 24.—The present indications are that the confederate reunion which opens tomorrow will surpass in point of attendance any similar event in recent years. Last night and this morning in addition to the passengers arriving on regular passenger trains, all of which are provided with extra equipment, twenty-nine special trains had arrived, and this number will be exceeded within the next twenty-four hours.

General S. D. Lee, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans, arrived late last night, and attended a dinner at which he and "Corporal" Tanner, grand commander of the G. A. R., were joint guests of honor. Today General Lee held a reception in the parlors of the St. Charles hotel for the members of his staff, which was largely attended. He said today that there are no features of especial importance to come up at the present reunion, and in view of this fact expressed himself as highly gratified at the prospect for a record breaking attendance.

The numerous affiliated societies have opened headquarters in various parts of the city and today entered actively upon their programme of entertainment of visitors.

As yet but two cities, Birmingham and Richmond, Va., have been mentioned as places for the next reunion.

Marshall place, while Illinois parties will locate the other west of town, on colony tracts. The latter concern will construct a large planing mill on the railroad, the foundation having been begun, where they will keep kiln-dried lumber. This last venture means much for St. George, as the short supply of lumber has been a serious drawback to the city.

Deputy Sheriff Davis Is Slain by Will Miller.

Moultrie, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The funeral of Wilson Davis occurred at Pavo yesterday afternoon. Davis was a deputy sheriff of Thomas county and was shot by a negro named Will Miller, whom he was attempting to arrest Saturday night. Miller was charged with a misdemeanor and Wilson had a warrant for him. The negro was located in a shanty at Dukes' still and when the officer made his presence known at the door, the door flew suddenly open and he was fired upon in an instant. One ball entered his stomach. He returned fire, slightly wounding the negro in the shoulder, but he escaped. Wilson walked a mile to a farm house and was not thought to be seriously injured until the following day, when a physician was called. He died Sunday evening.

Wilson was a man of good standing, and he leaves a wife and four children. His slayer is still at large, but a posse was pursuing him yesterday and it is expected that he will be captured.

FARMERS MAY BULL MARKET

President Johnson Shows How the Planters Can Control Situation.

President M. L. Johnson, of the Georgia Division, Southern Cotton Association, addresses a communication to the farmers of Georgia today in which he urges upon them the importance of putting themselves in a position where they can "bull" the cotton crop of their own motion when the necessity for it arises. Here is what President Johnson says:

"To the farmers of Georgia: Let me urge upon you the importance of putting yourselves in a position where you can 'bull' the cotton crop whenever the necessity for it may arise. The most advantageous time for this is between September 1 and January 1, when the new crop is coming from the fields. That is the time to get the best prices for your crop. It is then that the mills are shortest of supplies and their needs are most pressing. It is then that the farmer should be in a position where he cannot be forced to sell, and where he will not sell until the price fixed has been reached.

"To put himself in this independent position the farmer must be practically free of debt. Debt is the curse of the farmer, of his family, of his country. Incur no debt, or if you must borrow or buy on credit, be sure you make no debt which you cannot meet without selling your cotton to do it. If you do you are sure to sacrifice your own independence. A people with only one money crop must steer clear of debt. The creditor always, of course, makes the debt due when the crop is ready for market, and therein he has the advantage by which he is able largely to control the price of the product, an advantage which the farmer should and could have if he would only insure his own independence by making no debt which he is compelled to pay in cotton.

"If you will heed this advice and secure your own independence, you will be able to control the price of cotton next season. Let the county organizations suggest what they think is a fair price for the product, and through their delegates let each state association say what the staple should bring. Then let these state organizations tell the Southern Cotton Association what should be the price of the crop, and when that price is fixed let us all stand shoulder to shoulder and see that is is paid. You can do this if you are in a position to hold and control the cotton that you make. Ultimate success depends at least upon the combined efforts of individuals. Let's all work together for that success.

"M. L. JOHNSON, President
"Georgia Division, S. C. A."

The Hobson men are claiming victory, while Colonel Bankhead said today when asked for a statement that he was not sufficiently informed to make one at present.

SCHOLAR'S HABITS
Coffee Most Pernicious.

A manly young fellow, working his way through school, and whom the world will hear of some day, came near blighting all his prospects by coffee drinking.

"I drank coffee all my life," he says, "and looking back I can see that it was responsible for much of the nervousness from which I suffered as a child. Four years ago while at a preparatory school I began to use it more freely than ever before.

"I imagined it strengthened me, but as the school year went on I felt that I was 'playing out.' First, I was troubled about studying in the evening, then I got so I could not sleep well, and rose in the morning unrefreshed. My nerves grew shaky, hands trembled, eyes pained me, and sometimes at the blackboard everything would seem to turn black—I couldn't see what I was doing and would have to take my seat. Then my brain seemed to grow sluggish—I could not think clearly and consecutively.

"Thus things went on for a year—sometimes a little better, then worse again. I laid it to various causes, but didn't hit on the right one till I went to a physician. He said that my nervous system and digestion were in bad shape, owing to improper diet, and the use of coffee. I said I couldn't get along without coffee, but he insisted that I should give it up and use Postum Food Coffee instead.

"I at once changed my diet, and for a time lived principally on Postum, Grape-Nuts and fresh fruit. The improvement began quickly to manifest itself. My sleep came back, my brain grew clear and active, my nerves were steadied and my digestion is better than ever before. The color has come back to my cheeks and I gained nearly 30 pounds weight in three months. My mind is active and I enjoy studying. I owe it all to Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

RETURNS STOLEN MONEY AFTER A LONG DELAY

VALDOSTA, GA., April 24.—(Special.) A return of conscience money, as unusual as it was unexpected by the recipients, was reported here yesterday. A young lady of this city and her mother each received a check from a well-to-do and prominent citizen of another city for a considerable sum. Accompanying the check to the young lady was a letter from the sender, stating that eighteen or twenty years ago he had been a clerk in the business house of the young lady's father, and that he had from time to time taken sums of money from the cash drawer, which after this long time he desired to restore to the owner. The party said he could not remember how much money he had taken, but that he did not think it amounted to more than he was returning.

He also said that for ten years he had been trying to get his courage up to the point of making restitution. Neither the young lady nor her mother knew anything of the thefts the man thus acknowledged, and they were agreeably surprised by the receipt of the checks.

'FRISCO'S OLD CHINATOWN OBLITERATED FOREVER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The big fire has obliterated Chinatown from San Francisco forever. Mayor Schmitz informed Chief of Police Dinan last night that all of the Chinese now in the city would be collected and placed in or near Fontana's warehouses near Fort Mason, and that the new Chinatown would be located at Hunter's Point, on the southern extremity of the county, on the Bay Shore. It is several miles distant from the old Chinatown. All Chinese who have left the city and who return later will be concentrated at the new point.

GAVE THE BABY TO NEGRESS.

One of the smallest juveniles that have come under the ey of Probation Officer Gloer for a long time appeared yesterday afternoon before Judge Broyles in the shape of a 3-months-old infant. The child was carried in the arms of a negro woman, while its mother, Fannie Becker stood nonchallantly before the bar. Since it was 3 weeks old the baby has been under the cars of the negress, Fannie Smith, of 17 Boas street, who received, it is said, $5 a week to care for the child. White people living in the vicinity of this woman's home noticed that she was keeping the child, and reported the fact to the probation officer. Fannie Becker admitted that the child was her own, but showed no desire to take it back again. The colored woman seemed far more motherly than the real mother, and was loath to part with the child when the recorder decided to send the baby to the Home for the Friendless.

"Here is a paper nullifying you that your child is taken from you," said Probation Officer Gloer as he handed the woman a paper which Judge Broyles had just signed. "If you want to keep the child now you must take the necessary steps within ten days."

The woman took the paper without a change of expression, just as she received Judge Broyles' reprimand, and the little party passed out of the door.

ANGRY STRIKERS SURROUND PLANT

Trouble Seems Likely at Great Allen Tannery.

Kenosha, Wis., April 24.—Offers by Charles W. Allen, head of the Allen tannery, in this city, in hopes of checking the strike, have proved futile. An angry mob surround the immens plant and trouble is feared. The men have made a written demand on the company demanding an increase of $1 a week and a three years' contract.

THEATERS.

The Bijou.

"Gay New York" is probably one of the biggest successes of the season at the Bijou and patrons of that house are not slow in showing their appreciation of the excellent offering this week. The comedy is decidedly lively and there is something doing every minute. The plot is interesting but it is only a small part of the entertainment, as the various musical numbers, the marches, etc., really make up the brilliant parts of the show. The standing room sign was displayed early last night, and late comers had to satisfy themselves with standing.

Taken from start to finish "Gay New York" is really worth while and the week should be one of the most enjoyable of the year and bring splendid audiences to the popular theater all the week.

The matinee Thursday afternoon will be a special benefit for the 'Frisco sufferers, as every cent of the proceeds will be turned over to the local committee for the relief of the stricken people of the far western city.

The young cadets were in excellent condition, and acquitted themselves in splendid manner. The friends of the three schools represented were in attendance, and watched the results with bated breath. Tonight all the visiting cadets are being entertained at the volunteers' armory, as the guests of the volunteers.

Constipation and Its Causes

A Well-Known Remedy

Constipation is one of man's worst enemies, and half the bodily ills we suffer from are a result thereof. Nature meant that the bowels should be kept free and open—that we should have a free movement at least once a day. Of course, we ourselves are to a large extent responsible for our troubles by failure to observe Nature's laws. Our habits are irregular, we eat improper food with undue haste, and when we find our bowels do not move, have resort to powerful drugs and medicines, which are so drastic in their action that, although they may purge at first, they damage the tender lining of the stomach and bowels so as to leave a worse condition than before. And why take such injurious and expensive drugs when we can obtain from any druggist, much cheaper, a bottle of Nature's own remedy—the famous Mineral Laxative Water—HUNYADI JANOS—bottled at the springs in Hungary; in use nearly half a century. One dose, ½ a tumblerful, drunk on arising in the morning, (slightly warmed for best results) will bring within an hour a refreshing movement—gentle, natural and thorough—without any griping or purging or other bad effects. A whole bottle costs but a trifle. Keep one always on hand. At all Druggists. •••

Dr. Taylor at Covington.

Covington, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Dr. Eldridge O. Taylor, of Boston, who delivers the scientific temperance lectures at the University of Chicago, delivered his first of a series to a most appreciative audience here Monday night. He lectured again this evening and repeats Wednesday evening.

His theme last night, "Microbes and Men," dealt with the nature of alcohol, and coordinates it with cocaine, opium and other deadly drugs. He says the drug store is the only place for it.

KING SULLIVAN WINS WITH EASE

Georgetown Is Smothered by the Georgia Baseball Team.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—(Special.)—The University of Georgia sprang the biggest surprise of the local collegiate baseball season today when they not only defeated but played all around the crack Georgetown University team on the local field, winning by a score of 7 to 1.

It was known in Washington that the Georgians had been putting up a fine article of ball in the south for the past two seasons, but their fame had not reached here, or at least it was not appreciated. The Georgia boys had traveled all of the night previous to the game, but their work showed no indication of this fact or any signs of fatigue. Georgia excelled in every department of the game.

Sullivan an Enigma.

Sullivan was an enigma and had his opponents at his mercy throughout, with no less than eleven strike-outs to his credit. Fleishman's work at short was the best that has ever been witnessed on the local field and he was generously applauded. McWhorter led his team mates at the bat, getting four hits, two of which were triple, that set the Georgia rooters wild.

Every member of the team was on edge and never did the boys from Athens do themselves or old Georgia greater credit. And although the score don't show it the Georgetowns have a number of brilliant plays to their credit.

Both teams went out in order in the first. The Georgians started the ball rolling in the second with one tally. With two out Hodgson singled, stole second and scored on Erwin's single. In the third Brown drew a base on balls, went to third on McWhorter's safety and scored on another by Sullivan.

Two More in the Fifth.

In the fifth the Georgians raised the total to four. By fast sprinting Brown beat out a grounder to third. Then followed McWhorter's dandy triple to deep center and Brown scored. Sullivan sent a long fly into deep right, McWhorter beating out the throw in.

In the seventh just to show that history repeats itself McWhorter landed still another one in safe territory and pulled up on first, Brown getting as far as third.

Not satisfied with the proof of the repetition of history, Sullivan sent out his third long fly and Brown scored. McWhorter going to second on the throw in. Watson followed with a safe one to center and took third on Simon's error, McWhorter scored. Franklin ended the inning with a liner along the right foul line to Monohan, who made a fine running catch that was roundly applauded.

In the eighth with their lead of seven runs the Georgians eased up a bit and Georgetown narrowly averted a shut-out by scoring their one lone tally.

Georgetown has been playing great ball with the crack college teams of the north and everybody expected them to have an easy thing with Georgia, but all their rooters acknowledged they have seen no better ball this year than the Georgians put up.

After beating Yale, Princeton, Carlisle, and in fact all of the big northern universities, it was a natural conclusion among them that the Georgians would only add another to their long string of victories.

ADAMS TRIAL NOT CONCLUDED

Evieence Was Completed and the Opening Argument Heard.

Ed Adams, the negro janitor of the Walker street public school, was put upon trial yesterday afternoon in the superior court of Fulton county, Judge Roan presiding, upon the charge of having, on March 26, last, attempted a criminal assault upon Miss Lollie Belle Warde, the 14-year-old daughter of Rev. A. C. Warde, the pastor of the Temple Baptist church.

The evidence was concluded and John A. Boykin, one of the attorneys for the defense, made the opening argument, after which court adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock. Solicitor Charles D. Hill will open for the state this morning, will be followed by Samuel C. Crane, for the defense, and Solicitor Hill will have the conclusion for the state.

The case was called immediately after the Strohbar case was disposed of shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A jury was soon struck, and, the court orom having been cleared of all persons svae the lawyers, officers of the court and representatives of the press, the trial proceeded.

Robert Barr, the Author, an International Writer.

An interesting literary discovery has been made, which is elating all persons who take pride in native genius, and who heretofore looked on Robert Barr as an essentially British novelist.

It is now learned on no less authority than his own statement that Mr. Barr claims America, equally with England, as the cradle of his literary career. He was, it is true, born in Great Britain, but he came to America at an early age and settled at length in Detroit.

In the Michigan metropolis he first began to write, intending to devote himself to journalism. His paragraphs in a local paper soon attracted national attention, and led him to the more ambitious field of fiction.

These paragraphs, pithy and pointed, were signed "Luke Sharp," a corruption of the English slang phrase, "Look Sharp."

So impregnated was Mr. Barr with American sentiment that he brings much yankee local color into many of his stories, and has even laid in the United States the earlier scenes of his newest and best novel, "A Rock in the Baltic." He has also chosen a lovely American girl as heroine of the book.

"A Rock in the Baltic" is the first of twelve novels by famous modern authors—six English, six American—forming the great $150,000 series which the Authors and Newspapers' Association is to issue during the forthcoming year.

It is most appropriate that the first work of the set should be by an author to whom both America and England can lay claim. "A Rock in the Baltic" is a stirring romance of love, intrigue, adventure and mystery that holds the reader spellbound throughout.

The Authors and Newspapers' Association has selected The Sunday Constitution to make public for the first time the great $150,000 series. All the twelve novels will be published serially in the columns of The Sunday Constitution before appearing in book form. No other paper in the city or vicinity has serial rights to the books. The novels will thus be published exclusively in The Sunday Constitution. Order from your newsdealer in advance to avoid disappointment, as each edition is sure to be sold out. The first story commences May 6, and will be completed in four instalments. ***

HART SPEAKS FOR GEORGIA

Attorney General Makes Concluding Argument in Ducktown Case.

Washington, April 24.—(Special.)—Attorney General Hart made the concluding argument for the state in the Ducktown case before the supreme court this afternoon, special counsel Ligon Johnson having opened the case in an argument of an hour and a quarter. Vogel, of New York; John Frantz, of Knoxville, and Judge James G. Parks presented the case for the defendant corporations. The case attracted much attention because of the peculiar issues involved, a number of attorneys representing companies not directly interested being present to hear the arguments, as this Georgia case is regarded of far-reaching importance.

TO INVESTIGATE ALLEGED TRUST

Judge Lurton Charges Grand Jury on Subject.

Attorney General Moody States That Further Investigation of Alleged Fertilizer Trust Will Depend on Action of Nashville Grand Jury.

Nashville, April 24.—An able, clear, concise and instructive charge and presentation upon the Sherman anti-trust law was made to the federal grand jury here this morning by United States Circuit Judge H. H. Lurton.

Judge Lurton in charging the federal grand jury, defined a trust, read the sections of the Sherman law upon which convictions may be founded, showing that a $5,000 fine or one year in prison, or both, could be imposed on guilty parties. He showed that the federal laws on trusts were based on the right of the government to regulate interstate commerce, but that it had no control over trades or combinations existing solely in and affecting a particular state only. He showed that congress had as exclusive right to guard the commerce between and among states as did the state themselves to control such matters entirely within their own borders.

He defined clearly and sharply contracts in restraint of trade and to control prices to the detriment of the common people and the enrichment of a few. Among other things Judge Lurton said:

"The constitution recognizes two distinct classes of commerce. Commerce among the several states, with foreign nations, and with all the Indian tribes, is the first class. All other commerce constitutes intrastate commerce.

The Power of Congress.

"The latter, or the internal commerce of each state, is commerce local in its character, and wholly within the state in which it originated. The thousands of daily transactions in trade or transportation which more closely concerns us lie within the limits of intrastate commerce and over this class of commerce the state alone has the power of regulation.

"Congress has no power to regulate commerce or transportation which is wholly within a single state, which does not also directly operate as a restraint or monopoly of commerce among the states.

"Upon the other hand, the power of congress over commerce among the states and with foreign nations is as exclusive and absolute as is the power of the state over the state commerce."

At the conclusion of Judge Lurton's remarks, United States District Attorney A. M. Tillman presented to the court Hon. J. Harvard Graves, of the department of justice at Washington, and Hon. E. T. Sanford, of Knoxville, who have been appointed by the government as special assistants to the United States attorney in the prosecution of the alleged fertilizer trust. Witnesses are to be taken before the grand jury as soon as the district attorney can get matters in shape and interesting proceedings are anticipated in the near future.

All Depends on the Jury.

Washington, April 24.—Concerning the government's investigation into the alleged fertilizer trust begun today at Nashville, Attorney General Moody said:

"The matter has been under investigation by special counsel employed by the department of justice for some time and what further action is to be taken by the department will depend upon what the grand jury finds."

Half Rates for Exhibits.

Macon, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The exhibitors of both farm and live stock products at the centennial fair here next fall are to get return shipments of their property free, the only charge being made by the railroads having been fixed for the transportation to the fair. This advantage will enable the exhibitors to come with little costs in transportation and many will take advantage of the offer. Mayor Smith, Secretary Anderson and the directors of the fair association are working for large exhibits of both farm and live stock, and all advantages are being secured early so that those who desire to do so can prepare to come with big shows of Georgia products.

MACON TO HAVE AUTO FACTORY

Enterprise Will Be Headed by Hon. Ben L. Jones.

An automobile factory in Georgia is among the probabilities within the next six months.

And if the factory is established Macon will be its location, and Hon. Ben L. Jones, of that city, will be the moving power.

En route home from New York, where he has been for the past two weeks, Mr. Jones stopped off in Atlanta for a few hours, and while here discussed with friends the establishment of a factory in the south. Mr. Jones is one of the most enthusiastic automobilists in this section, and is interested in one of the largest houses handling machines in Georgia.

"I have always been an advocate of good roads, as every one who knows me is aware," said Mr. Jones at the Kimball. "Long before the automobile was—I might say thought of—I was a member of the Bibb county road commission, and my appeals for good roads before that body are known throughout the central section of the state."

While in New York he visited several of the factories, intending to buy a machine or two, but within a short time he ascertained that every factory in the east had orders for three and four months ahead for machines.

"The parts composing the machines," said Mr. Jones, can be bought and shipped south, where the machines can be constructed, as well as at points in the east where the machines are now being built. The demand for machines shows conclusively that the output throughout the country is far short of the orders. Then why can't a factory in the south, where artisans can work every day in the year, be made profitable. Any how, I am inclined to try it on."

Mr. Jones has been one of the most successful business men within the state, and never undertakes anything without knowing exactly what he is doing. Full of enthusiasm, a deep student, he always gives a careful and thoughtful consideration to everything he undertakes.

"FOUR THOUSAND EIGHT HUNdred and fifty-six drunks on the streets, Special Officer Burke!" That is the last that will probably ever be said of a negro who was found drunk on the streets Monday night, and who died early Tuesday morning at the Grady hospital without every recovering consciousness. The man was brought to the station, but it was found that he was injured and he was taken over to the hospital. No one has identified the man and nothing will probably ever be learned of him. He will be buried as simply prisoner No. 4,856.

GOVERNOR TERRELL LEFT THE city last night to be present at the Albany chautauqua today, which will be governor's day. Colonel Harry Schlesinger accompanied Governor Terrell. The Eufaula Rifles, of Alabama, were on yesterday granted leave by Governor Terrell to pass through the state to Albany.

LOCAL ITEMS.

THE BOARD OF AUTOMOBILE EXaminers met yesterday afternoon with the chief of police and city clerk and decided to hold the annual inspection and examination of autos and operators on July 1.

NELLIE TURNER, A COLORED woman, and the first of her sex to run afoul of the anti-spitting ordinance, appeared before the recorder yesterday morning. A conductor was the witness and there was nothing for Nellie to do but gracefully confess that she was guilty and comfort herself with the small notoriety of being the first to get in trouble on this score. Nellie paid her fine and departed a poorer and wiser woman.

RUSSELL NEIGHBORS, THE MAN who tried to beat his wife with his own wooden leg Saturady night, was a somewhat crestfallen prisoner before the bar yesterday afternoon. He was accompanied by his wife, and, while admitting his deeds, seemed very reticent. He explained that never before had he been drunk and never before had he attempted to chastise his wife with his remarkable weapon, and further promised that he would never be guilty again. Neighbors was let off lightly, as the wife plead in his behalf and he promised very heartily to be good.

THE SOUTHERN AGENT OF THE Union Pacific railroad and its connections, J. F. Van Rensselaer, is distributing among the colleges and larger schools of the state a couple of engravings of scenes in California, which are of increased interest in view of the late earthquake disturbances in that state. The pictures, one of Mount Shasta and the other of Lake Tahoe, are magnificent pieces of work, and owing to their large size a splendid idea of the beauty of the scenes portrayed is obtainable.

GOVERNOR TERRELL ON YESTERday granted a respite, which will expire on May 18, to John Graham, a negro, of Americus, Ga., who was sentenced to hang on April 27 for the murder of Horace Morgan, another negro. The supreme court affirmed the judgment of the lower court, but the governor granted the respite in order that the condemned man might lay newly discovered evidence before the prison commission in support of a plea for commutation of sentence.

UPON THE REQUEST OF JUDGE Charles R. Crisp, of the city court of Americus, Governor Terrell has offered a reward of $150 for the capture and conviction of the unknown person who recently set fire to and burned down three houses belonging to J. P. Cannon, of that town.

IT WAS REPORTED TO THE CONstables last night that Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Mollie Ryan, two old women who are living in a house belonging to Steve Glass, near Simpson street, are in a destitute condition and are badly in need of assistance.

BRONDUS BREWTON, OF MOUNT Vernon, Ga., was on yesterday awarded a scholarship by Governor Terrell to the Oread institute of Maryland. The scholarship is valued at $1,000, and the appointee has to stand almost as rigid a mental and physical examination as that required of appointees to the military academy at West Point. Agriculture, manufacturing and commerce are the branches taught at this institute.

AFTER CONSIDERING REPPORTS of various of its committees, the Fulton county grand jury, which convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, at which time the jury will make its formal presentments and be excused for the terms.

OWING TO THE FACT THAT GOVernor Terrell will be engaged on Friday in hearing the application for the extradition of J. N. Strohbar to Florida, he will be unable to review the university cadets at Gainesville, Ga. Governor Terrell has expressed his regret at being unable to be present at the review on Friday, but will be represented there by Adjutant General Obear.

The People and the Exposition.

The committee of twenty-five prominent citizens upon whom have devolved the burden, thus far, of canvassing subscriptions and arranging details for the exposition of 1910 has reached that stage where it can go no further without a definite and spontaneous expression from the people of Atlanta regarding that project. A mass meeting has been called at the Grand opera house on May 8, and between the present date and that one Atlantans must arrive at a decisive affirmative or negative opinion, so that the enterprise may no longer be clouded with doubt and these public-spirited citizens embarrassed by inadequate or uncertain popular support.

It is true that almost $200,000 of the half million popular guarantee fund has already been accumulated. It is equally true that the sum represents only a minor proportion of the financial capacity of the people of Atlanta. Hundreds of individual and corporate concerns have not committed themselves in the matter of subscriptions; and each one of these dilatory ones is amply able to give liberally without hampering its resources. If, therefore, the business and professional men, the army of clerks, artisans and laborers that make their livelihood from this city will attend the mass meeting on the 8th of next month fully determined to do their part in this great project, the sum needed will be secured within a few minutes after the opening formalities, and the exposition securely placed beyond doubt.

The Constitution has so often outlined the advantages inevitably accruing from an exhibition of this magnitude as to make their reiteration seem almost in the nature of platitudes. We have before us the tremendous harvest of the last great exposition held here. It is seen today in the increase of Atlanta's population; the multiplying of her residences, her business houses and her skyscrapers; the augmentation of every industrial and commercial interest; the investment of foreign capital and the enhanced interest and friendship of every section of the United States.

Since the closing of the Cotton States and International exposition, conditions have radically evolved and progressed, not in Atlanta alone, but throughout the entire south. We are prosperous in an unprecedented degree; not a line of business but is flourishing apace; and every week sees the establishment of new concerns, and a forward leap in bank clearings and the volume of general commercial transactions. The same is true in commensurate measure of every state in the south. The virile doctrine of progress, of hope, of development, of commercial and industrial conquest is abroad in a militant spirit as never in our previous history. Atlanta and the south stand on the threshold of an era illimitable and almost incomprehensible in its scope and possibilities. But we cannot hope to realize our potentialities and make dividends out of them, unless we perform our inevitable share of the contract. We must invest brains and labor and money consistently and intelligently to insure the desired results; and The Constitution knows of no better manner of so doing than through the suggested exposition.

Surely there has been no change in public opinion since the memorable gathering of the chamber of commerce only a few months ago! The people must be convinced as they were then of the feasibility and the profit of an exposition. It is not Atlanta-fashion to allow opportunities of such big girth to vaporize in enthusiasm, or to languish for lack of the life-giving breath of popular support manifested in a liberal outpouring of contributions from high and low.

Yet, whatever the cause, the fact stands out with unpleasant distinctness that the guarantee fund has not been completed; and it has been open now for many weeks. If the people of the city want the exposition they must say so—plainly—and they must back up their announcement by generous offers of support. In the last analysis they constitute the jury in this momentous case.

Their verdict will decide the matter for aye or no.

Give the Rural Routes a Chance.

Elsewhere The Constitution prints a communication from Mr. Charles R. Wynn, of Lizella, Ga., a rural free delivery carrier, commending the editorial efforts of this paper in behalf of the rural free delivery routes of the south. This letter is one of many similar ones received by us in the last few weeks from patrons of this indispensible branch of the postal service and carriers. All voice the anxiety that is felt for rural free delivery by patrons of the newer and weaker routes threatened with discontinuance by the postoffice department, showing how keenly alive the people of this section are to the benefits of rural free delivery and how the menacing policy of the department is exciting their interest and protest.

Mr. Wynn has stated a few simple facts that comprehend the most cogent argument for fostering, instead of discontinuing, the struggling rural free delivery routes. The majority of the farmers living along these remote routes live too far from a postoffice to take advantage of its poor mail facilities, especially during the season of active farm labor, and without the coming of the postman to their door they would live a life of almost complete isolation from the world, so far as newspapers and correspondence are concerned. The rural free delivery service enables them to keep in touch with their distant relatives and friends and the outside world without neglecting their necessary agricultural duties to travel a long distance to the postoffice, and the brightening of their lives in this manner has greatly stimulated their desire for communication and intellectual contact with the pulsing world of men and ideas. They, as a result of this convenient postal service, are writing twice as many letters as they wrote without it, and subscribing for twice as many newspapers. In consequence, their lives are less lonely and sequestered, their homes are happier, and their minds are better stored with knowledge. The rural free delivery system is a great educator as well as a great convenience.

As our correspondent says, these remote rural dwellers are entitled to this little bit of postal paternalism on the part of Uncle Sam, whether they are able to patronize the service sufficiently to make it self-supporting or not. The government owes them this much return for their taxes and the responsibilities of citizenship.

And if these weak routes are left alone, they will soon be self-supporting. Rome was not built in a day. They are making great progress. Give them a chance!

A Needed Georgia Institution.

A recent issue of The Constitution contained a dispatch from Augusta in which the following significant paragraph occurs:

Glenn Mills, the young son of a farmer of small means, was sent yesterday to the Pasteur institute, in Atlanta, to receive treatment for hydrophobia. Money sufficient to pay all the expenses was contributed by charitable citizens of Augusta.

Casualties of this nature are not isolated or of infrequent occurrence in Georgia. Beginning with the heated term they extend, intermittently and with more or less prevalence, throughout the summer and well into September. In an editorial a few weeks ago we called attention to the fact that in Lumpkin county alone five persons were bitten in the year 1905 by dogs supposed to have been afflicted with rabies. Three of these patients were sent to a Pasteur institute at the expense of the public, largely through the benevolent instrumentality of Dr. A. G. Fort, of Lumpkin county, who is energetically interested in a movement looking to the establishment of a branch of this institution under state supervision.

A roster of the other Georgia counties would demonstrate that they suffer proportionately from this scourge during the summer months. As has been stated previously, it frequently happens that the majority of the victims in these instances are members of poor but worthy and respectable families, unable to bear the rather heavy expense incident to the imperative treatment. Dr. Fort pointed out in a communication to this paper that the average physician had no facilities for the care of the disease, and that to postpone the application of the anti-hydrophobic lymph was equivalent to courting death for the sufferer—death in its most excruciating and pitiable form.

Only in an institution established and equipped for the scientific treatment of hydrophobia can the man or woman suspected of having contracted it receive practical and positive relief. The report from Augusta, coming on the threshold of the season most troubled with this malady, gives pith and insistence to Dr. Fort's contention that the state should be interested in a Pasteur branch the door of which shall be opened to patients from all over the state.

The matter should receive serious consideration at the approaching session of the general assembly.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

R. F. D. Carrier Thanks Constitution.

Editor Constitution: I desire a small amount of space to thank you for your timely article concerning the discontinuance of R. F. D. routes "that do not pay."

I feel sure that you are doing a great good and know that whenever possible every rural carrier will speak a good word for your paper.

For example to show what the routes are doing, I will, with your permission, give some facts concerning my route: Previous to Janary 1, 1905, at least one-half of my patrons were so far from a postoffice until it was impracticable for them to take newspapers at all and they wrote very few letters. They are all farmers—hard working farmers—poor, but honest, and now after laboring all day they, as a matter of fact, do not feel much like reading when night comes, but these people have friends and relatives who live at a distance—do they not want to hear from them? They can't do it if their route is taken off unless they lose from one to four hours' time to go from 2 to 8 miles to a postoffice. Further, there are very few who do not take at least one or two papers, either weekly, semi-weekly or tri-weekly, and these few are waking up and I do not believe (if the route is kept going) there will be half a dozen families inside of six months who will not be taking a newspaper. Some of them are hesitating now for fear they will have to go to the postoffice for their mail. To illustrate, a young man a few days ago stated to me: "The time is out for my ——, but I am afraid to renew, for you know I can't afford to stop my plow two or three times a week and go to the office for my paper." Of course he cannot, but is he not as much entitled to good mail facilities as the man who lives in town, or the man who lives in a richer neighborhood?

Thanking you for the valuable space consumed and with best wishes. Sincerely,

CHARLES R. WYNN.

The Literary Attic.

In an article on "The Vanity of Big Houses," John Burroghs, writing in the Cosmopolitan, has a kindly word for the attic:

"In the attic philosophers have meditated, poets have dreamed, wits have scribbled, saints have prayed. Was ever a serious or profound word spoken in a parlor? Probably so, when serious and profound men have been caught there!"

It seems a pity, then that the attic, as far as literature is concerned, has gone out of fashion. The elevator scorns it, and the successful author doesn't care to drop into his automobile from that altitude. It must remain a dusty Hall of Fame, sacred to the memory of the Lords of Literature, whose gray ghosts might have unpleasant things to say of our pretensions, could we interview them in the midnight stillness.

It's a Good World Still.

In spite of all the grafters—

There must be good in something—
A sweeter song to thrill
The darkness with the chorus:
"It's a

Still!"

An' I reckon that the angels
High on some heavenly hill,
Will waft to heaven the echo:—
"It's a
Good
World
Still!"

CREW'S SLEEPING CAR BURNS.

In Seeking To Exterminate Bugs, Crew Wrecks Car.

Covington, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—a sleeping car belonging to the Georgia railroad carpenter crew, which is engaged in building a water tank near the depot here, was destroyed by fire at 9 o'clock this morning. The bed clothing, together with the personal effects of the workmen, was a total loss. The fire was caused by a fumigation process to exterminate bed bugs, it is reported.

BROOKLYN EAGLE ON GREENE-GAYNOR

A NOTABLE CASE.

(From The Brooklyn Eagle.)

In 1898, when Judge Augustus Van Wyck, of Brooklyn, was nominated for governor by the democratic convention in Syracuse the Tammany contractors and politicians united with the democratic politicians and contractors of central and western New York to control the party convention. A result was the nomination of ex-Judge Augustus Van Wyck, of Brooklyn, for governor as the opponent of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the republican candidate. Judge Van Wyck was barely defeated and Mr. Roosevelt was barely elected.

While Judge Van Wyck was always differentiated and exonerated from the jobbing crew that forced his nomination, and while he made an honorable and earnest canvass, Mr. Roosevelt's election was due to the attack which he waged upon the Richard Croker and John F. Gaynor influences, which, he declared, sought to control the state government as they controlled the state convention that year. Colonel Roosevelt stood to be defeated on the record of Governor Black, the republican executive, but he snatched victory out of the jaws of defeat by his eleventh-hour assault on the Croker influences and the John F. Gaynor influences which had controlled democratic politics.

The John F. Gaynor influences were known and felt throughout central and western New York. But contracts for United States work in Georgia, held by John F. Gaynor, had been brought to light in Savannah, and Oberlin M. Carter, an officer of the United States engineers, was suspected of criminally profiting by swindles with which Gaynor was identified. Those swindles were being brought to light by the grand jury of the United States district court in Savannah, and the judge of that court then was, and is now, Emory Speer, who had been appointtd, though an independent democrat, by President Arthur.

Shortly afterwards Carter was convicted, sentenced to a long term in prison and heavily fined. John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Greene, accomplices of Carter, were indicted and put under $40,000 bail. They escaped to Canada, their bail was forfeited and they reimbursed those who went their bail and who thertby enabled them to escape.

That was six years ago. For over five years they resisted by legal devices their extradition. But a few months ago all devices were exhausted and they were put on trial for three offenses in Judge Speer's court in Savannah. Yesterday they were convicted. Today they were sentenced and probably the longest fight on record between the United States and criminal defendants was ended by the victory of the United States, in the same court, conducted by the same judge from whom these defendants sought to escape. This is a most notable vindication of the persistence of justice shown for a long time. It is as dramatic as it is just, that Judge Speer should be the presiding officer of the court in which these men have been found guilty.

A law article could be written on the long fight these men in vain put up against extradition. Another article could be written on the progressive and triumphant results which followed from the bare victory of Theodore Roosevelt, whose election as governor John F. Gaynor and Richard Croker nearly prevented. Still another article could be written on the consequences to democracy, which the former dominance of Croker and of John F. Gaynor caused. And, at least, one more article could be written upon the necessity of reducing extradition of criminals from British territory to the United States to simplicity, to certainty and to celerity. These articles, however, can wait. Speculation could infinitely consider what would have followed, had Roosevelt lost the governorship to Judge Van Wyck and had the democracy of the state passed under Croker and Gaynor management then.

The simpler and the salutary thing to consider today, however, is the patience, the persistence and the final victory of moral justice, under legal forms, in the court of the United States in the southern district of Georgia. The triumph of justice in that court over the devices and resources of guilt is a matter for congratulation, for faith in the right and for hope for the future. The defendants are of little consequence, except as their case has contributed to the judicial and moral vindication of justice and of law. The fight the defendants put up may have been within their legal rights, but the immoral quality of that fight, on their behalf, has sorely, and rightly, impaired the standing of lawyers and of justice in the case of Gaynor and Greene's resultant scandal that the highest courts in England had to interfere on behalf of justice in th ecase of Gaynor and Greene and against the efforts of several lawyers and some judges in the Dominion of Canada on their behalf.

Yet all the while the federal court in the southern district of Georgia calmly awaited the triumph of justice and of law, and today the judge of that court, Emory Speer, pronounced the sentence of justice and of law upon these criminal and convicted defendants.

SAN FRANCISCO.

(From the Poems of Bret Harte.)

Serene, indifferent to Fate,
Thou sittest at the Western Gate;

Upon thy heights so lately won
Still slant the banners of the sun;

Thou seest the white seas strike their tents,
O Warder of two Continents!

And scornful of the peace that flies
The angry winds and sullen skies,

Thou drawest all things, small or great,
To thee, beside the Western Gate.

O lion's whelp, that hidest fast
In jungle growth of spire and mast,

I know thy cunning and thy greed,
Thy hard high lust and wilful deed,

And all thy glory loves to tell
Of specious gifts material.

Drop down, O fleecy Fog, and hide
Her skeptic sneer, and all her pride!

Wrap her, O Fog, in gown and hood
Of her Franciscan Brotherhood.

Hide me her faults, her sin and blame;
With thy gray mantle cloak her shame!

So shall she, cowled, sit and pray
Till morning bears her sins away.

Then rise, O fleecy Fog, and raise
Thy glory of her coming days;

Be as the cloud that flecks the seas

When forms familiar shall give place
To stranger speech and newer face;

When all her throes and anxious fears
Lie hushed in the repose of years;

When Art shall raise and Culture lift
The sensual joys and meaner thrift,

And all fulfilled the vision, we
Who watch and wait shall never see—

Who, in the morning of her race,
Toiled fair or meanly in our place—

But, yielding to the common lot,
Lie unrecorded and forgot.

SUNDAY CONSTITUTION HAS ADDED ROBERT BARR TO LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

First Instalment of His Great Novel, Never Before Published, Will Appear May 6--Something About the Author and His Work.

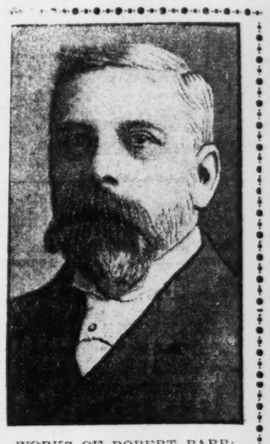

MR. ROBERT BARR, at present editor and chief proprietor of The 'Idler, is a Canadian, and was at one time on the staff of The Detroit Free Press. That his memories of America are pleasant is shewn in many of his books, notably in "A Woman Intervenes," in which one of the two heroines, an American journalist, figures, though for the sake of the plot she has to appear at first as a temptress and, indeed, almost as a "villainess," yet emerges triumphant at the end, marries one of the two heroes, and saves the situation generally.

Mr. Barr was, in conjunction with Mr. Jerome K. Jerome, the founder of The Idler, now one of the best of the London Magazines, as its current Christmas number testifies. He is pleasantly remembered by all the more noteworthy of London's younger authors and authoresses as one of the witty and genial hosts at the "idle tea parties" which the editor of The Idler are wont to give at the offices of the paper in Henrietta street, London, on Friday afternoons.

Mr. Barr began his career as a journalist, and among his later works are "In a Steamer Chair." "From Which Bourne," "The Face and The Mask," "The Unchanging East," "In the Midst of Alarms," "Revenge," "Tekla" and "The Mutable Many."

The scene of his last book, "The Speculations of John Steele," is laid in America and depicts a long and keen financial battle between the young hero and his adversaries ending in the triumph of youth, when the hero wins the battle and marries the daughter of his most vindictive enemy.

Mr. Barr owns that his chief hobby is photography; but the confession is not to be taken literally; his life-like characters are his own creation and not portraits, or at any rate recognizable portraits of people whom he has met. Every man's friend, he is one of the best loved men in literature.

WORKS OF ROBERT BARR: "Tekla," "The Victors," "The Chicago Princess," "The Mutable Many," "The Strong Arm," "Revenge," "From Whose Bourne," "In a Steamer Chair," "The Speculations of John Steele," "Over the Border," "The Woman Wins," "In the Midst of Alarms," "A Womah Intervenes," "The Face and the Mask," "One Day's Courtship," "Jennie Baxter, Journalist," and "The Unchanging East."

The novel that he has in hand now for the plan of the Authors and Newspapers' Association will be an international romance of love and action, with an ingenious plot holding the reader from start to finish, with stirring scenes in the United States, England and Russia, and an extraordinary incident in the Baltic sea.

It will be called "The Rock in the Baltic," and its first instalment will appear in The Sunday Constitution, May 6.

NOT MUCH MONEY CAN BE FOUND

Finance Committee Does Not Transact Very Much Business.

The finance committee of the general council met yesterday afternoon, but it didn't do much because there wasn't money in sight to do much with.

The petition from the board of education asking for an additional $13,000 for the Pryoar street school house was held up until the committee could do some more looking around to see where the money is to come from. The board was at first authorized to expend $30,000 for a lot and building at the corner of South Pryor and Doane streets. The lot was bought and bids received for the building. The board found out that at least $13,000 more would be needed.

The committee decided to report favorably on the bid of George F. Whitney to clean the water main from the river to Hemphill station for $7,200. The committee could not find the $50,000 necessary to put down a new main and the next best thing was to have the old main cleaned out. The pipe is said to be lined with barnacles, which are to be removed. City Engineer Clayton has long been of the opinion that there is an obstruction somewhere in the main, and if this is so, Mr. Whitney will find and remove it.

The police department will be authorized to expend $5,000 on the signal system. The first appropriation was $2,500 and the committee decided to double the amount.

All other matters were pigeon-holed for the present.

BANK IN EXAMINER'S HANDS.

Federal Official Takes Charge of Attalla National Bank.

Gadsden, Ala., April 24.—Federal Bank Examiner Silas H. L. Coper, took charge of the First National Bank of Attalla today and closed its doors. The only information to be had is that the examiner has taken charge and closed the bank. It is understood the action was taken on orders from the comptroller of the currency in Washington. It is said the bank is only temporarily embarrassed and will be able to resume. L. M. Dykes is president and some of the leading business men of Attalla are directors. The capital stock is $25,000. It is believed that the statement of the bank up to April 6 caused the investigation which led to the suspension.

Great Strike Feared in France.

Paris, April 24.—The strike element is increasing in France with the approach of May day, when the authorities apprehend a serious general movement. About 6,000 persons employed in the jewelry trades and 4,000 employed in the paper industry today joined the book printers. The leading establishments are guarded here who struck work some time ago, by troops.

Told by Booth Tarkington.

(From The Boston Herald.)

This story of the absent-mindedness of a professor of Phillips Exeter academy is told by Booth Tarkinton, the novelist, who was a graduate of that institution.

"This man's wife hastened in to him one morning as he sat in his study marking exercises.

"'Oh,' she cried, 'Oh I've swallowed a pin!'

"The instructor smiled.

"'Don't worry about it, my dear,' he said, 'it's of no consequence. Here'—he fumbled at his lapel—'here is another pin.'"

HISTORIC GUN TO BE UNVEILED

Memorial Day Services at Decatur, Ga., Will Be of Unusual Interest.

The Agnes Lee chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, of DeKalb county, are arranging interesting ceremonies for the observation of Memorial day in Decatur, commencing at 10 a. m.

The old historic cannon, a relic of the Indian war of 1836, that has perhaps the most interesting history of any old gun in this country, has been handsomely mounted by the ladies of this chapter on the public square at Decatur and with appropriate exercises will be unveiled on that day.

This gun was used in defense of this section during the Indian war of 1836 by a company organized and commanded by Colonel James M. Calhoun, who will be remembered as mayor of Atlanta during the siege and occupation by General Sherman. It was Colonel Calhoun to whom Sherman said, "War is hell," a remark that goes down as part of the war history of Atlanta. It was Captain Calhoun's company of cavalry which so gallantly defended the crossing of the Chattahoochee river near Columbus on that memorable Sunday that was set apart by the savages to massacre the whites, driving the combined forces of the Creeks and Seminoles to the swamps and corralling them until reinforcements arrived to drive them out of the country. He received for his gallantry special mention and commendation from the general in command. His son, Colonel W. Lowndes Calhoun, a veteran of the war of the states, who as a soldier fully maintained the reputation of his illustrious ancestors, will present the history of this old 6-pounder in an address that will be of great interest to the people of Georgia and of this immediate section. He will give its history, origin and the circumstances by which DeKalb county became possessor of the old gun.

"PARLOR SOCIALISTS" HIT.

Strong Criticism Is Uttered by Secretary Taft.

New Haven, Conn., April 24.—"Parlor socialists, drawn from the ranks of university graduates, are inefficient as citizens and recreant to the duties imposed on them by their great educational advantages," declared Secretary Taft, last night at Yale. He delivered the first of a series of addresses in the Dodge foundation on "The Responsibility of Citizenship."

"Even acquaintance with saloon keepers, he said, is justifiable in case of educated men who sincerely wish to aid in bettering conditions by legitimate political methods. Mr. Taft said he hoped to see educated men, whose personal means put them free from worry over getting a livelihood for their families, make careers in public service. Such service, he said, would be of great benefit to the community and the country.

CULPRITS AND CRANKS BEFORE "JEDGE BRILES"

Will's Easter Egg Hunt.

AMONG the small boys who live by hook or crook, and mostly by hook, is Will Bird, who tries to fly high without working for the coin to do it with.

Will had an Easter egg hunt all to himself Monday afternoon. He went into the store of Alsabrooks, corner of Fraser and Rawson streets, and seeing a lot of Easter eggs looking lonesome and unprotected he picked them up tenderly and walked off with them.

As he passed along Fraser street a hen cackling nearby scared him into conniptions and he let fall several of the eggs which scrambled themselves in the sand. This caused a crowd to gather and Will's explanations were about as lame as those of a henpecked husband.

A policeman got mixed up in the crowd and he investigated. The result was that Will and the eggs were carried to the lockup.

When Will was arraigned in the recorder's court yesterday morning he wept. He cried out that a great injustice had been done him and begged to be allowed to make an explanation.

"It will need a lot of explaining," remarked the recorder. "I can understand how such boys as you can steal chickens but I thought you drew the line on such a small things as an egg. I suppose, however, it's Easter that causes the lack of discrimination."

"Jedge Briles," said Will Bird, "Ise er hopin' dat yer will 'member dat Ise er orphant. I went ter dat store ter git some chewin' gum an' I seed de aigs on de sidewalk an' I lowed ter merse'f dat de store man frowed 'em out dere bekase dey wus sp'ilt."

"It's nothing but short of an Easter desecration," said the recorder. "I am going to fine you $5 and I hope that you will dream of hens and rabbits and that they will chase you through the swamps all night long. The idea of a boy stealing Easter eggs, but the dye is cast for you are a dyed-in-the-wool thief."

With one long wail, Will Bird cried out as the bailiff led him away:

"Dem ole aigs wus sp'ilt."

Son Thomas' Grip Mania.

Most people are afraid of the grip, but Son Thomas, a small negro boy, wants the grip so bad that he has a mania about it. The police have been trying for the longest to break up the practice of small boys seizing grips at the Terminal Station. It was at one time such a nuisance that as soon as a well posted traveler stepped from a train he gave his grip an extra grip and made a dash for the nearest cab or trolley car. He had to do this or have a dozen or more boys at his heels and many of them swinging to his grip.

All the boys were made to stop except Son Thomas. He just couldn't quit. He became so grip struck that every time he saw a man with a valise he almost had a fit.

Monday afternoon he was seen hanging around the Terminal Station, and Officer Jett approached him and said:

"Son, you had better get away from here or you will be after a grip before you know it, and if you do I will have to lock you up. You know your weakness and you had better avoid temptation."

"Yessah," replied Son Thomas, "I knows mer failin' but I beliebs' dat I hez at las' done obercum de habit."

It wasn't fifteen minutes before Son Thomas was after a drummer who came out of the station. He had one side of the grip and the drummer the other and they had a regular old fashioned "pull gander" time of it.

Officer Jett hove in sight and he made the boy release his hold on the grip by choking him off.

In the police court yesterday morning Son Thomas was full of repentance.

"Jes' gib me annuder chance," said he, "an', Jedge Briles, jes' ez sho ez de sun shines in de sky I will nebber grab enny more grips. Ise gwine ter pray ober hit an' keep erway frum de depot forebber."

"I a msorry for you, Son," said the recorder with a pathetic ring in his voice. "I am sorry for anybody who has a besetting sin which they cannot overcome. I will let you go this time, but try in the future not to have the grip habit. Don't let the habit get a grip on you, as it were."

On a Pocketbook Raid.

About three years ago a Darktown dude with glib tongue, who gave his name as Jim Seabright, appeared in the recorder's court on the charge of matching nickles for soft drinks. He was let off with a lecture. Later he appeared before Jedge Briles again for shooting craps and got a fine of $15. Still later he appeared in the same depot of frenzied justice for running a gambling joint in Crooked Alley and was bound over.

As Jim had a slick tongue and was well dressed, Recorder Broyles gave him some good advice and warned him that he was going down hill and would get to the bottom, where the gallows loomed up, if he didn't change his course.

Yesterday morning Seabright was in court again and this time for being a regular pickpocket and footpad.

Policemen stated that Seabright had raided Whitehall street Monday afternoon during the rush and had picked the pockets of a number of women. He secured some fifteen or twenty dollars, rings, 'kerchiefs and trinkets before he was caught.

His trick was to catch a woman in a store and see where she put her purse. Then he would follow her into another store which was crowded and in the push pick her pocket. He robbed two or three white women and half a dozen negro women.

The victims were in court and identified their money and purses.

Jim said the money found on him had been given him by his sister to pay for her false teeth.

"Yes, and your story is about as false as those teeth," remarked the recorder. "I told you years ago, Jim, that you were going down grade. You will now get abut ten years in the pen. It was a low down trick to rob a lot of defenseless women of their week's wages; but there is no use to talk to you for you know what is wrong and would see it that way. You ought to change your name for you never see right. I will make your bond $1,000 for robbery and larceny. Goodbye and may it be for many, many long years, Jim."

Diamonds

"To those in April born,—that month of mingled sun and shower,
The radiant diamond ever brings in happiness its dower."

Besides the pleasure and the reputed good-luck a diamond brings to its wearer, whether he be April-born or not, there's a very material advantage in possessing a fine stone. Always marketable and always enhancing in value, the investment feature of the proposition is by no means inconsiderable.

Quality is the main thing with us in the matter of Diamonds. Our stock is unmatched in the South—a broad claim, but an honest.

ATLANTA BABY IS REQUESTED

Professor McFadden Wants Babies to Experiment With.

He Writes to Mayor Woodward for an Infant from This City, and Says He Will Adopt It and Name It "Atlanta."

Professor Bernarr McFadden, of Spotswood, N. J., wants a baby from this city and he promises to name it "Atlanta" if he obtains one. The professor is trying to secure a dozen or more babies from different parts of the country for the purpose of experimenting hygienically with them. He believes that the people are spending too much time in ascertaining how to raise fine horses and dogs and are neglecting the babies.

He wrote a letter to Mayor Woodward, which was received yesterday, in which he said he would like a fine baby between one and ten months old. In his letter he inclosed a copy of an editorial which he published in his magazine. The editorial explained what the professor wanted the dozen babies for.

The promise is made that all the babies he receives will be regularly adopted into his family and that they will not only be well treated, but will be used as specimens to illustrate how babies should be raised.

"I have received many suggestions," states the professor in his letter to Mayor Woodward, "both illuminating and valuable, about raising babies."

Says Babies Are Neglected.

He adds:

"There are reasons, scientific and sentimental, why I should get these babies from certain geographical and social points. I propose to secure a baby from all the centers of population in the United States. If you will aid me in securing a baby from your city I will adopt it, treat it well and name it Atlanta. I intend to name each baby after the city from which it comes.

"There is a great deal of ignorance as to rearing babies," he continues. "Thousands of lives are sacrificed. Experiments are being made on animal and plant life, but human life is too cheap for such good work. Instead of paying so much attention to dog kennels, why not raise beautiful human beings? Babies are reared on the 'grandmother' idea and no intelligence is displayed about it. A mother will murder a child by the 'good old methods' rather than save its life by the so-called 'new fangled theories.' I contend that it is a thousand times more important to raise beautiful children than it is to raise fine blooded horses or well bred dogs."

Mayor Woodward referred the letter to the Home for the Friendless and suggested to the matron of that institution if she could not get up a baby for Professor McFadden, to hand the letter to some other institution which cares for homeless infants.

Columbus After New Railroad.

Columbus, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—President Cargill, of the board of trade, this morning received from Mayor Chappell that part of the proposition of President Williams, of the Georgia, Florida and Alabama railroad, as was referred to the board of trade by city council. President Cargill immediately called a meeting of the board of directors, and a committee was appointed who will investigate the matter and report at the next meeting of the board. This committee consists of the chairman of the various standing committees of the board, and President Cargill is chairman. The committee will hold a meeting Friday night. The matters of rights of way for the new road, a $40,000 subscription for a freight office and the underwriting of $300,000 of the railway's company's bonds were matters referred to the board of trade. President Williams makes these features conditions of the extension of his road from Cuthbert to Columbus.

Some men learn the value of advertising by not trying it.

There are hundreds of manufacturers who have seen their competitors commence to advertise, and promptly and loudly prophesied their failure. These have learned their mistake and paid a high price for the experience. To see others grow rich at your expense is unpleasant.

Others have thought that there might be something in advertising, but have preferred to wait and see how those who tried it came out.

These must now be content to occupy a rear position, as the advertisers have forged so far ahead, and gained such a foothold, that it is impossible to dislodge them.

Do not repeat the fatal errors of others. Advertise your goods.

Every week 780,000 people buy THE SATURDAY EVENING POST. Every week it is read by an average of 4,000,000 people. THE POST is their favorite magazine. They like to read it and to patronize its advertisers. Tell your business story every week—once a month is not often enough.

SOLDIERS' GRAVES TO BE DECORATED

All Ready for Celebration of Memorial Day.

Tomorrow Procession Will Form Promptly and Take Up March to Oakland—Judge Beck Will Be Orator of the Day.

Tomorrow the graves of the confederate dead in Oakland cemetery will be covered with flowers in commemoration of those who lost their lives fighting for the lost cause.

April 26 over the entire south is Memorial day and since the war the people have formed in solemn pageant and marched to the resting places of the heroes who wore the gray and died before they knew the cause for which they had fought was lost.

All the preparations for the celebration of Memorial day in Atlanta have been made and the procession will form promptly at 2 o'clock and take up the march to the cemetery.

The military, the secret orders, the firemen, the police, the city officials, the ladies and last but far from least the old veterans will take part in the exercises.

Judge Marcus Beck, of the supreme court, will deliver the oration.

The marshal has appointed all his aids and they have been given instructions where to form the sections which each will direct.

Judge Beck is an excellent speaker and he will deliver one of the finest Memorial day orations ever heard in the city.

Yesterday afternoon the mayor was requested to have six carriages at the city hall at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon which will be occupied by the city officials.

The weather will probably be fair and there will be nothing to mar the occasion. Oakland cemetery was never more beautiful than it is this spring, and when the soldiers' graves are covered with flowers the scene will be one that cannot fail to remind those who witness the ceremonies that the south, after a lapse of forty years, still holds dear her traditions and has not forgotten the men who gave up their lives in her defense.

Chief Joyner earnestly requests all the organizations that expect to take part in the procession to be on hand promptly so there will not be any delay.

Call to Veterans.

"All members of Stonewall Jackson Camp 1,581, United Confederate Veterans, are requested to meet at 14 East Hunter street, with badges, crosses and uniforms, at 12:30 p. m. on April 26, 1906, to take part in the memorial exercises. J. B. McFADDEN,
"Commander."

The managers and clerks have received their final instructions and all is ready for the primary election.

The only contests will be for representatives from Fulton county and the race is a five-cornered one. Three are to be elected and there are five candidates.

The registration has not been heavy and the vote polled today will probably be light, as the candidates for county offices have no opposition.

For County Treasurer—A. P. Stewart.

MANY MAKE USE OF EXPRESS CO.

Generous Offer of Southern Express Company Is Accepted by Citizens.

The generous offer of the Southern Express Company to transfer free of charge all moneys and supplies sent to San Francisco has been widely accepted. In fact, many hundreds of dollars and a large amount of supplies have already left here and various other southern points.

The Southern Express Company's announcement of its generous policy was made through Charles L. Loop, second vice president, and was given out in Atlanta through Manager Hurlburt. This offer means that not only supplies in the way of money, but clothing may be sent through the express company free of charge.

Whn it is realized what a tremendous amount of contributions have been amassed and are being sent out, the action of the company can be more fully comprehended. It is necessary, however, to consign all moneys and goods to the regular relief committee or the San Francisco city officials.

Card from Judge Fite.

Cartersville, Ga., April 23.—To the People of the Seventh Congressional District: Gordon Lee's announcement for congress is in keeping with his peculiar methods. He had the primary called for the 3d day of May to keep from meeting me on the stump and to prevent me from meeting the people and to give him an excuse for not being here. He now tells the people that he is busy in Washington attending to their business and asks them to take care of him at the polls.

This is an old political dodge, and I hope no one will be deceived by it. There is no telling just where Mr. Lee is now, nor what he is doing. On Friday and Saturday, the 13th and 14th of this month he was at the Reed house, in Chattanooga, Tenn., registered under the name of J. G. Lee, "conferring" with his political heelers, and on Sunday following was in Walker county doing the same thing. He may have gone back to Washington, but he has left his private secretary and "bag-toter," who is now traveling all over this district "conferring" with the heelers. This is the same fellow who was at the meeting of the executive committee that called the primary, both in person and by proxy, manipulating in the interest of Mr. Lee.

All I want, or have ever wanted, is "an open field and a fair fight," and I ask the good people of the district to see that I get it at the polls. I will not spend one cent or furnish one drop of liquor to corrupt any man's vote and am relying on the unpurchased and unpurchasable, the incorrupt and incorruptible voters of the district to defeat ring rule and political trickery. Very truly yours,
A. W. FITE.

CHORUS GIRLS WILL KI IF YOU DON'T BUY TIC

Today the Bijou Fays Will Sell Seats for t Matinee Which Will Be Given for 'Frisco Sufferers.

LOOK out for hold ups today.

They will be common, and every man—and woman, too—should enter the down-town shopping district well armed.

This doesn't mean carrying guns and concealed weapons.

For they won't save you.

Piastres. Oboles. Dough. Coin of the realm.

These are the only protection which will make safe entering the retail district of Atlanta today.

Chorus girls, pretty, petite charmers to the "Gay New York Company," now playing at the Bijou, are going out upon the city streets seeking whom they may separate from their munificent salary or their meager stipend. But they are going to give some return for your money, which is exceptional where hold-ups occur. They are going to give you tickets for the great Thursday matinee at the Bijou. All of the gross receipts of this monster performance are going to be turned over to the sufferers at San Francisco. Henry DeGive, manager, was the originator of the plan. Jake Wells and his representative, Hugh Condoza, were prime pushers in the enterprise. All three men have hearts as big as the parquet of this popular theater and when they heard the cries of the victims of the terrible disaster, there was no appointing of committees. Rather, there was work.

Girls Gladly Gave Their Services.

Conferences were held with the "Gay New York" company, which is the present attraction at the house. Instantly from Manager Moore and Miss Lillian Hoerlein, the leading lady, to the latest arrival in the chorus, was enthusiastic cooperation.

"Gimme sixty-six," said pretty Miss Helen Lawton. "I'll make 'em come across."

Was Miss Helen the only member of the chorus who wanted to go out and sell tickets on the streets of Atlanta? Remember, you have but one guess on this question.

You guessed all of the girls wanted to sell some? You are the wise one. Immediately there was more rivalry and excitemment among these histrieonic artists than is generally found at a "first performance." They are mighty clever, too, these girls of the chorus. But you'll see more of them today. No doubt about it. Incidentally, loving wives should remember while on their shopping tours today that what happens this morning and this afternoon does not count. If she sees her own husband or her neighbor's husband having a delightful tete-a-tete with a pretty girl, don't hurry home and start packing up for a trip to mommer. Nothing has happened except that he has been held up in the name of charity, which is apt to be particularly long suffering today. Don't get jealous, but just hope that he will escape without having to pay more than $10 for a 50-cent seat at the great Thursday matinee.

Help for the Destitute.

Another thing, when you are held up today don't feel badly if any change. Don't ex back and you won't b Seriously, it is a good ber that every cent yo these pretty ticket selle blankets, which will mea women and children you and will never see. B your friends in spite of

and a description of the farm which is their home.

The bride was until her marriage one of the most celebrated models in New York city, having posed for the foremost artists in New York, Cincinnati and Washington. She was the subject from which some of the most famous sculptors of the day have drawn their inspiration, and her beauty figured especially at the St. Louis exposition, where she was the original o fthe most noted statues, among the Miranda's "Fame." She is a southern girl, a native of Chattanooga, and the daughter of the late Alexander Ayre, a prominent merchant of that place. Mr. Warner is a wealthy young farmer and a erpresentative of an influential New York family, and after meeting the beautiful young southerner in New York and falling in love with her, he gave a house party in her honor at his farm which won her allegiance away from the studio life and ended in the marriage.

Cook-Howell.

A PRETTY wedding Thursday evening was that of Mrs. Kate S. Cooke and Mr. William N. Howell, which took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. N. S. Swiney, on Capitol avenue.

The occasion was one of impressive simplicity, there being no attendants, and the only witnesses the immediate families and most intimate friends. The ceremony occurred at 8 o'clock, Rev. H. L. Briggs officiating. The house was very attractive with its spring decorations. Mrs. Cooke is a young woman of loving traits and has a host of friends who wish her well. Mr. Howell is a North Carolinan, and belongs to one of the best families of that state. His business interests at present are with the Lowry National bank. They are at home to their friends at 470 Capitol avenue.

Chambers-Winn.

THE announcement of the marriage Miss Mary Beulah Chambers and Mr. William A. Winn, of this city, which was solemnized Monday evening, April 9, 1906, was received with great surprise to their many friends.

Miss Chambers is the daughter of D. W. Chambers ,and by her amiability and sweet unselfishness has endeared herself to a large circle of friends. Mr. Winn is a well known young business man, and has for the past fifteen years been in the employment of Max Kutz.

The young couple were married in the North Avenue Presbyterian church, Rev. Richard Orme Flinn performing the ceremony.

Key-Webb.

A PRETTY wedding last night was that of Miss Fannie May Key and Mr. Robert Douglas Webb, which took place at the bride's home on Crew street. The plan of the wedding was a simple one, and there was present to witness it an interested gathering of friends.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. J. N. Snow, and Miss Louise Kinsey played the wedding music.

The house was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers and delicious ices in pink and white were served after the ceremony. The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Willie B. Jones, who was becomingly gowned in blue crepe de chine.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white silk and val lace, and she carried a bouquet of bride roses. Miss Jessie Webb, who, with Mr. Paul Key, assisted in the entertainment of the guests, was charming in blue silk.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Webb left for New Orleans.

The house was attractively decorated with snowballs and pink roses, and the ices and cakes were heart-shaped and pink. The score cards were wedding bells bearing pen and ink sketches of girls.

Mrs. William Henry McAlpin, who was charmingly gowned in white, won the first prize, a coral necklace and hat pins; Miss Annie Meehan cut the consolation, a miniature traveling bag, and Miss Lynch was presented a pair of blue silk garters with big blue bows.

Fudge at the Hotel Bon Air on Friday evening, the 20th instant, commemorating the twentieth anniversary of their marriage, the event being a china wedding.

GEORGIA MOTHERS HEAR DR. ALLEY

Interesting Sessions Were Held Yesterday.

Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, Mrs. Burton Smith, Mrs. A. O. Granger and Mrs. Edward Brown Were Among Those Who Spoke.

Mrs. Theodore Birney presided at three sessions of the mothers' congress yesterday, the morning session beginning with prayer by Rev. Orme Flinn. Committees were appointed to take up the business side of the convention and the first speaker on the programme was Miss Willette Allen, whose subject was the "Kindergarten and the Mother." She spoke from the viewpoint of the educator and the student of child life. She briefly outlined the principles and purposes of kindergarten training as taught by the great Froebel.

Value to the Child.

She spoke of its value to the child at the most impressionable age, and of its threefold influence in developing the child's physical, mental and spiritual nature.

In the able address made by Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, she spoke o fthe value of the kindergarten to the community, bringing out its importance as the basic principle of the child's education which he should receive upon the age when he may enter the school; of its influence on the character of the child, and of its economic factorship in protecting the child from environments which lead him into wrong doing and finally into the vices of the juvenile criminal.

The Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session opened with prayer by Dr. C. B. Wilmer.

Mrs. Theodore Birney introduced Dr. Sherman Davis, of Bloomington, Ill., who was enthusiastically received, and spoke informally on the subject of the eary training of the child, especially as it pertained to his all-round development, the physical in its close relation with the mental and spiritual.

"The Home and Repose" was the subject of a gracefully expressed discourse of Mrs. Burton Smith, in which she urged the keeping together of the individual home.

Dr. Alley's Address.

Dr. Robert Alley, of Bloomington, Ill., was masterful in his handling of the very broad subject, "The Call of the Century."

The influence of woman he found demonstrated itself no longer exclusively in the home life, but out into the community. In their efficiency as educators, three-fourths of the teachers of the country being women.

In the big office building they are found doing the most important work, while their service in the interest of civic improvement asserts itself on all sides, while their espousal of the cause of all movements standing for the betterment of humanity, made their organization for any purpose great mediums of helpfulness.

In bringing his hearers to the period of the nineteenth century he epitomized in a most interesting view the life of previous centuries, the fifteenth century being the one characterized by the spirit of unrest, the reaching out for a something which made with the sixteenth century marking a period of discovery—a period when people went out for new things; when they realized new life as well as intellectually and spiritually.

This knowledge came to expand itself in the seventeenth century and to be expressed in the application of the knowledge and the practical demonstrations of the results of discoveries made in the previous century.

The history of the eighteenth century was written in blood, when men went to war and contended for permanent ownership. It was a century of revolution, and out of it grew the marvelous achievement of the nineteenth century with its great men in all the lines of human endeavor, with its freedom of thought and action, with its spirit of tolerance and brotherly love, no greater evidence of the battle having been given than in the international congress of religions holding at the world's fair.

Corporation the Call.

With this great heritage of the achievement of the nineteenth century, Dr. Alley declared that cooperation was the call of the twentieth century, as it would require that to meet with the complexity of conditions of the present—the complexity produced by such problems as that of capital and labor, of the race question and the south, and of the corrupt influences endangering the prosperity of civic governments.

This is not the age of the lazy man, there is no place for him. It is essentially the age of the man who must do things and who must do the hard things, and above all it is the age of the educated man, the one who strives to become the expert in whatever he undertakes.

The mothers of the country were to complement by their interest and influence and goodness the effort of man and bring about that cooperative spirit which will be the crowning glory of the present century.

Mrs. Edward Brown's address on the subject of the "Spiritual Life of the Child" was beautiful in thought and expression, and she held her audience in the most earnest attention. At the request of the many who heard it the address will be published in full in Sunday's Constitution.

The Evening Session.

Dr. W. W. Landrum opened the evening session with prayer and the feature of the programme was the address of Dr. Sherman Davis, of Bloomington, Ill., on the special needs of our boys and girls after they have reached the age of 13.

Mrs. A. O. Granger was eloquent in her presentation of some phases of the child labor question.

The programme for today is:

HITTING HARD ATLANTA WINS

George Winters Does Effective WorkWith the Stick.

Rube Zeller Had No Trouble in Restraining Swatting Tendencies of Ike Durrett's Heavy Hitters—Atlanta Is Home Today.

By J. C. Harris, Jr.

Montgomery, Ala., April 24.—(Special.)—From the crack of Dick Crozier's bat in the first inning, when he singled, until Apperious flew out to Jordan in the ninth, the last game of the series was easy money for Billy Smith's bunch of boosters.

The game ended with the score: Atlanta 7, Montgomery 1.

"Reuben" Zeller was on the firing mound for the Firecrackers, and he verily smothered Ike Durrett's Legislators inning after inning, the Legislators getting but four hits off "Rube's" delivery.

That Atlanta scored her first three runs is due to the fact that Ginger Winters' batting stick was chock full of hits, and hits that came at opportune moments.

Crozier, the first man up in the first inning, swatted the ball to center for a sack. He went to second when Pete Tiebald walked on four punk ones. Sidney Smith sent the two men up a peg when he bunted to pitcher and out at first. Winters sent a single to left and Dick Crozier crossed the plate, closely followed by Tiebald. There was nothing more in store for the Firecrackers in this inning, but Montgomery scored her only run in her half of the first, when Schwartz doubled to left after two men were out, Sam Apperious swatted the ball for a single, sending Schwartz scooting homeward with Montgomery's lone tally of the day.

In the third inning Pete Tiebald was guilty of bringing in Atlanta's third run. Pete had the assistance of George Winters' bat. Tiebald was safe on Schwartz's error and went to second on Sid Smith's bunt, Sid himself dying at first. Winters singled through second and Tiebald made the third tally.

Billy Smith and his bunch of followers brought in runs by the wholesale in the sixth inning. Sidney Smith started off the sixth by reaching first on a popfly which Bush dropped. "Ginger" Winters, every ready with his mallet of swat, singled, sending Sid to second to shake hands with Schwartz. Jordan laid down one of the prettiest bunts of the season and beat it out, thus filling the bags. Billy Smith, manager, drove in Sid Smith and Winters by his hit to left. Jordan went to third, while the happy chieftain was satisfied to stop at first. On Hausen's passed ball, Otto Jordan jumped home. After Fox had fouled out to catcher, Jimmy Archer hit safe and B. Smith sprinted home with the last tally of the day's play.

Piloted by Business Manager Ethridge and Baseball Manager Billy Smith, the Atlanta birds left Montgomery at 6:30 o'clock. The team's showing on the road, while it hasn't been phenomenal, has been first-class. The club returns in the .500 class, and there's no telling how many games the club will win at home. It's a cinch, though, that the team will win over two-thirds of the contests at Piedmont if the men exhibit the pepper they have shown on the road.

THE TECH TRACK TEAM.

TECH ATHLETES BREAK RECORDS

Shattered Former Marks for 440-Yard Run and Half Mile.

Work of Tech Contestants in the College Field Day Exercises Promises Surprise for Georgia and Emory Boys.

The Tech records were shattered and several others threatened by the wearers of the old gold and white in the annual field day exercises here yesterday afternoon on Tech campus in the presence of a fair crowd.

As expected the best work of the Blacksmiths was accomplished in the long distance events, while the time made in the sprints was rather poor.

In the 440-yard dash Davenport was the winner, breaking the former record of 58 1-5 seconds, by 2-5 seconds, the new mark being 57 4-5 seconds.

Davenport again showed his staying ability by going into the half-mile run, and winning this event with ease, shattering the former record by nearly 2 seconds. He covered the distance in 2 minutes, 13 1-2 seconds. Then the same Davenport went into the mile event and won again.

One of the prettiest events of the afternoon was the finishing number on the programme, the 220-yard hurdle. Dunn and Captain Maclean were the contestants. They started off about even, Dunn forging ahead after a quarter of the distance had been covered. Maclean was coming strong and fast and was picked for the winner. Within 100 yards of the finish he recovered the distance he had lost, and took the lead. Near the finish, however, his spikes tangled up with one of the hurdles, and, stumbling and almost falling, he did well to come in second.

In the running broad jump Goodier showed up in nice form, jumping 19 feet. In the hammer throw, Pittard let it fly through the air for a total of 83 feet, 3 1-2 inches. With more practice he will stand a fine chance to take this event in the big state track meet in Atlanta at Piedmont Parrk, May 9.

The events and the results are as follows:

100-yard dash: L. E. Goodier, and J. W. Robert tied for first place. Time, 11 1-2 seconds.

Hammer throw: C. W. Pittard, first, record 83 feet, 3 1-2 inches; T. F. Johnson, Jr., second.

440-yard run: J. E. Davenport, first, time 57 4-5 seconds; M. A. Dunn, second.

110-yard hurdles: M. R. Maclean, first, time 19 seconds; M. Dunn, second.

Pole vault: L. E. Goodier, first, height 8 feet, 8 inches; Noyes, second.

220 yard hurdles: J. W. Robert, first, time, 25 1-4 seconds.

Half-mile run: J. E. Davenport, first, time 2:13 -- minutes; H. B. Evans, second.

Running high jump: M. A. Dunn, first, height, 5 feet; M. R. Maclean, second.

Shot put: C. W. Pittard, first, distance, 31 feet, 5 inches; T. F. Johnson, Jr., second.

LADY BALTIMORE.

By Owen Wister, author of "The Virginian;" profusely illustrated with half-tones and drawings.

An entirely different book from "The Virginian," but as genuine a bit of American life, and quite as alive. Its young and imprudent hero surrounded—to his peril—with delightful women, young and old, is an acquaintance too charming to be missed.

The unlucky followers of Finn, who recently tried to break the southern record by losing seven straight games to Vaughan's bunch, will try to turn over a new leaf at Piedmont park this afternoon and trounce Billy Smith and his pilgrim band, just returned from Birmingham and Montgomery.

The game will start at 3:30 o'clock. If Montgomery were the opposing team, Billy Smith would probably start the contest about 3 o'clock on account of the many extra inning games played with the Montgomery club, but he figures that the regular starting time will be quite early enough, as nine innings will probably be sufficient.

The Atlanta team returns to this city crippled but playing a faster article of ball than ever before, despite their injuries.

The record made by the club on the road was a very gratifying one, considering that it was the first trip from home that the men were hurt and unable to play, and the pitchers not in the best of shape.

Atlanta dropped three out of four to Birmingham, all four fights being very close and undecided until the end of the ninth. In Montgomery Atlanta had better luck, winning two, losing one, and tying the other. Two of the contests with the senators went extra innings, one for eleven, another a thirteen inning tie.

LADY NAVARRE WINS TENNESSEE DERBY

Memphis, April 24.—Charles Ellison's good 3-year-old filly, Lady Navarre, won the rich Tennessee derby today in a hard drive down the stretch, by a length from M. H. Tichenor's California Derby winner, Good Luck, and Ellison also secured third money with James Reddick, Security and Dr. Gardner, the first and second choices, respectively, went to the front when the flag fell, the former setting a fast pace down the back stretch. BOUND FOR THE REUNION.

Veterans From the Carolinas Passed Through City on Way to New Orleans.

Confederate veterans from South Carolina and from North Carolina were in evidence at the terminal station yesterday afternoon when members of the Walker camp No. 925 passed through the ticket gate.

A car, bearing banners on both sides indicated the rolling home of the Gaffney, S. C., camp, while two or three other coaches were loaded with gray-clad men of the Palmetto state. North Georgia was represented by Kingston and Dalton veterans, who were accompanied by a number of friends, while an Atlanta delegation was on hand to go with the Walker camp.

But probably the most attractive feature was the presence of the P. M. B. Young camp, of Cartersville, under command of Colonel C. M. Jones, clad in his full uniform. Camp Young was acting as a guard of honor to the sponser and her attendants and was given a warm welcome by both the Atlanta veterans and the Carolinans. Only about one-half of Camp Young was present, the others having gone on last night. Under the charge of Camp Young were Miss Sarah F. Jones, of Bartow county, sponser for Camp Young; Miss Belle Franklin, of Adairsville, maid of honor; Miss Laura Norris, of Atlanta, maid of honor, and Miss Hattie Ewing Moore, of Rome, maid of honor.

Under command of Lieutenant Colonel C. M. Jones, a resident of Bartow county, the camp, the sponser and the maids of honor will reach New Orleans this morning to receive the good wishes of their Georgia friends who preceded them.

STROHBAR WINS BEFORE JURORS

But Must Face Extradition Hearing.

Acquitted in Superior Court Yesterday of Charge of Fraudulently Using Funds of A. C. L., Florida Officers Now Want Him.

J. N. Strohbar was yesterday afternoon acquitted of the charge of larceny after trust, in that he was charged with having fraudulently converted to his own use $1,708.18 of the funds of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad entrusted to him as agent of said railroad at Gainesville, Fla.

No sooner was the verdict in the superior court which restored him to liberty announced than Strohbar was taken in custody to await the determination by Governor Terrell of a request for extradition upon the charge of larceny after trust of some $20,000 of the funds of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, from the governor of Florida.

Strohbar was taken in custody by a deputy sheriff, and was committed to the Tower shortly after dark yesterday afternoon.

Argument upon the requisition from the governor of Florida will be heard by Governor Terrell at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Will Fight Extradition.

The application for requisition will be stubbornly opposed by Strohbar's counsel, it being alleged by them that he is ready to return to Florida of his own accord to face any charges against him, but that he will resist any attempt to take him there under arrest. The jury retired shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and at about 2 o'clock filed into the court room and returned a verdict of not guilty.

The defense relied upon the establishment of an alibi. They introduced evidence to show that Strohbar left Jacksonville on the morning of Augusta 30, arrived in Savannah at 12:50 p. m. of that day, and that it was a physical impossibility for him to have been in Atlanta on that day before the hour at which the banks close.

Strohbar's statement that he had paid out large sums for the railroad company, for which, according to their rule, he had taken no vouchers, created a sensation. He alleged that secret rebates paid to shippers of fruits, vegetables and phosphates, in violation of the interstate commerce laws, would account for large sums of money which the road claimed that he had embezzled.

Immediately after the publishing of the verdict a crowd surrounded Strohbar, by whose side sat his little wife, who has been all devotion during the time since he was extradited from Canada. Many shook hands with him and congratulated him, and Strohbar, who had maintained the utmost composure during his trial, broke down and wept.

By agreement, Reuben Arnold opened the argument for the defense Monday night and was followed yesterday morning by Robert C. Alston, who represented the Atlantic Coast Line railroad in the prosecution. He was followed by J. D. Kilpatrick, for the defense, and Solicitor Charley Hill concluded for the state.

The contention of the state was that Strohbar, who at the time of the alleged commission of the offense, was agent of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad at Gainesville, Fla., had on August 28 and 29 last received some $9,200 in payment of freights for the railroad; that he was involved as to his accounts with the railroad company at that time, took, with other moneys belonging to the railroad, two checks aggregating $1,701.18, came to Atlanta and cashed them at the Atlanta National bank on August 30 and fled to Canada, from which place he was subsequently extradited and brought back to Georgia for trial by Detective Lockhart.

BROTHERS LOST MAKING CRUISE

August and Arthur Hoddick Left Charleston in Yacht.

Men Should Have Been in Norfolk Days Ago, but They Have Not Arrived and Nothing Has Been Heard of Them.

New York, April 24.—Among the friends of August O. Hoddick, an architect of this city, there are grave fears that he and his brother, of Buffalo, have been lost while making a cruise up the coast from Florida to Norfolk, Va.

They left Charleston, S. C., on April 13, in the naptha launch, Senkaif, and should have been in Norfolk two days later. Ten days have passed since and no word has been received from them.

August Hoddick is well known among yachting men and the younger generation of architects of New York. His brother Arthur is one of the proprietors of an art store in Buffalo. Both men are wealthy. Two months ago the men went to Florida, where they devoted most of their time to fishing and hunting. They were in frequent communication with friends in the north up to the time they left Charleston.

JUDGE RUSSELL AT MT. VERNON

Spoke There Yesterday and Made Return Date.

Mt. Vernon, Ga., April 24.—(Specila.)—Judge Richard B. Russell, candidate for governor, delivered a campaign speech at Mt. Vernon today in the courthouse. It was not genreally known that Judge Russell would be here today, and this, coupled with the fact that the county primary is to be held on the 26th instant, prevented his having a representative audience. His address was well received by those present, and doubtless made friends for his candidacy.

His speech was along the usual line, the speaker claiming that he was the only true representative man in the canvass from the high office of governor. That four of the other candidates are millionaires and for that reason not kin to the great masses of the Georgia people.

Judge Russell has made an appointment to return to Mt. Vernon on Monday, the 14th day of May, when Montgomery superior court will be in session, and deliver another speech. He will probably have a much larger audience at that time.

CLARK HOWELL AT MCDONOUGH

Howell Answers All Questions.

Mr. Howell invited questions on any matters connected with he campaign. Particularly during his discussion of the disfranchisement question he was asked a number of questions by several parties in the audience, some of them being asked with the object of obtaining information on various points while one or two were evidently intended to interrupt and interfere with the meeting. In each case Mr. Howell made prompt and apt response, and in several cases his questioners replied that the response was entirely satisfactory to them. In the other instances the interruptors were promptly squelched, Mr. Howell turning their own attempts upon them and winning applause and cheers which effectually silenced them. In every instance the applause and cheers which rang through the court room indicated that the audience generally was strongly with the speaker.

Mr. Howell satisfactorily presented his attitude on the railroad question, demonstrating the falsity of the charges made by his enemies that he is in sympathy with the railroads as against the people. On the contrary, he showed that his whole record disproved any such charge as this and that in no instance had his adversaries been able to bring any single item of proof to substantiate it. He showed that he had always stood and worked for the fair and just treatment of the people by the railroads and the removal of all unjust discriminations in rates. But as opposed to the policy of his adversary, Mr. Smith, he favored inviting foreign capital to Georgia to build railroads or to engage in any other enterprise which would develop the state. On the other hand, Mr. Smith had openly announced a policy of confiscation which would not only keep out foreign capital, but would drive out that already invested here.

Mr. Howell and the Primary.

Mr. Howell spoke, in conclusion, of the unfounded charge which has been made by his adversary that he favored disbarring from the primary certain citizens of Georgia on account of their past political affiliations.

"This charge is equally false, as are the many others which have been made against me during this campaign," Mr. Howell said. "On the contrary, I have repeatedly said wherever I have spoken and through the press I have stated again and again that I would gladly welcome to the party every white man in the state of Georgia who will come to the party as a friend and join with us in the upbuilding of the state. The principles of the democratic party are broad enough and its platform is wide enough to accommodate every white man in Georgia and I would be glad to see them all united within the democratic ranks." (Loud applause and cheers.)

Mr. Howell was repeatedly applauded and cheered during his address, and at it sconclusion it amounted to an ovation. Many came to him from every part of the audience congratulating him and assuring him that he had won their support surely and irrevocably.

"I haven't been for you, but since that speech my vote and support are yours," said a well known citizen of Henry county who lives at Flippen.

"If all the voters in Georgia could hear that speech, Mr. Howell would carry every county in Georgia," was the comment of another.

LAST SESSION OF UNION

Successful Meeting Conducted Yesterday by Atlanta Sunday School Workers.

The most successful meeting of the Atlanta Sunday School Union ever held came to an enthusiastic close last night. The attendance was very large at all the sessions and the accomplishments looking to practical results were far in advance of those of any other quarterly meeting.

The whole day yesterday was taken up in work of a most practical and helpful nature. The morning session opened at 10:30 and lasted until noon. The devotional exercises of this session was appropriately led by Rev. O. A. Barbee.

Late in the morning what is known as a sectional conference was indulged in, various speakers taking up the different lines of discussion, Major Halford speaking on the adult class; Miss Lucy Irby, on the young men's and young women's classes, and Dr. W. W. Landrum discussing the part of the pastor.

The main feature of the afternoon session was the round table conducted by Dr. Junius W. Millard at 4 o'clock.

At night Miss Millie Rutherford, of Athens, Ga., spoke on "How To Hold Young Women in Sunday School Classes," and Colonel Asa G. Candler strikingly pointed out the value of the Sunday school eacher to the community.

WOMEN WORKING FOR LIGHTS.

Harlem Ladies Open Bazar To Secure Electric Lights.

Harlem, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The Ladies' Eenterprise Circle opened up their bazar today with a barbecue, which was well patronized. Their energetic determination to have the city lighted by electricity, has attracted the attention of the most enterprising citizens, and it looks now that the movement will be a success. The revenue from the electric lights will fully pay the interest in the bonds required for the installation of a lighting plant.

TEXAS HOLDS HENRY SEIGLER.

Habeas Corpus Proceeding Keeps Him from Georgia.

Augusta, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—Habeas corpus proceedings instituted in Johnson county Texas, has brought to a standstill the case of Henry Seigler, charged with kidnapping. The Seigler case is familiar. For some time past the man has been wanted in Augusta for kidnapping his own child. Several weeks ago, he was located in Texas, identified, and arrested by the local authorities. Requisition papers were taken out, and Officer Stafford was deputized to bring the prisoner to Augusta. He was expected to return last week, but before he could obtain custody of his man, Seigler's attorneys in Texas began the habeas corpus action. Constable Stratford will remain in Johnson county until a decision is reached.

LABORERS SLAY A FOREMAN.

Fitzgerald Meets Death at Hands of Italians.

Roanoke, Va., April 24.—J. H. Fitzgerald, a well known railroad contractor of Huntington, W. Va., was shot and stabbed to death today near Curve, Giles county, Va., by a gang of Italian laborers. Fitzgerald's slayers escaped immediately after committing the crime and are being pursued in the mountains by Sheriff Durham and a possee. If captured they will be taken to the Giles county jail at Pearisburg. Fitzgerald was a member of the contracting firm of Millet and Fitzgerald and went alone today to inspect some work on the new Tidewater railroad. There were no witnesses to the crime except twelve Italians, all of whom took to the woods after the killing. Fitzgerald was shot twice in the head by bullets of different calibre and was stabbed in the back and abdomen. There has been a great deal of trouble of late along the new road with Italian laborers.

Glascock County Primary.

Gibson, Ga., April 24.—(Special.)—The democratic primary for the nomination of county officers and representative for Glascocok county was held today. The following ticket was nominated:

W. A. Gibson for representative; T. A. Walden for clerk superior court; J. L. Kitchen for sheriff; Randall W. Irby for tax receiver; W. O. Harrell for tax collector; A. H. Hooks for county treasurer; Wilson Glover for county surveyor; John M. Moorgan, coroner. A light vote was polled, and the day passed off quietly.

Why He Growled.

(From The Washington Evening Star.)

"I suppose you regard your election as a mark of confidence and esteem."

"Yes," answered the politician; "It shows conclusively that I stand well with the boss in our district."

How to Fool a Lazy Liver with Artificial Exercise

EVERY serious Sickness has a small beginning.

And, in nine cases out of ten that small beginning is made in the Bowels.

Indigestion is the beginning of most diseases.

It paves the way for all others.

Lack of exercise, hasty eating, improper food, are its first causes.

Laziness, and postponement, permits it to grow into Chronic Constipation, which means life-long Discomfort.

It isn't necessary to be sick-a-bed, you know, in order to be mighty uncomfortable.

Even slight indigestion affects the nerves, dulls the mind, and obscures the merry sunshine of Life.

And, Indigestion once started, grows fast, corrodes temperament, and discounts happiness, good cheer, capacity.

It does that long before it puts you on the Sick list.

Every thinking Doctor knows why.

Professor Rand knew it.

That's why he framed up for students his famous formula for Happiness, viz.: "Trust in God, and keep your Bowels open."

The Bowels need adjustment from time to time, just like a clock, or a watch.

No "Good time" is humanly possible without this.

And, the time to adjust the watch is not when it has run down, nor when the main spring is broken, but at the very minute adjustment is discovered necessary.

The time to adjust the Bowels is not merely when your Head Aches, when your Liver is Sick, your Stomach in Revolt, and Nature's Food Process retarded for 24 hours or longer.

The proper time to adjust them is the very minute you suspect they need adjustment.

—If your tongue is slightly coated,

—If your breath is under suspicion,

—If your Head feels a trifle heavy or dull,

—If digestion seems even a little slow,

—If Heartburn, Belching, Colic or Restlessness begin to show themselves,

—That's the time to eat a Cascaret.

Don't imagine the Cascaret is ineffective because it is pleasant to eat as Candy.

It acts as pleasantly as it tastes. It is as congenial to your Bowels as it is to your Palate.

It is not a "Bile-driver" which floods out your stomach today with fluid juices needed for tomorrow.

But, it acts like Exercise, instead.

It stimulates the muscular lining of the Bowels and Intestines, so that they mechanically digest food and drive out the waste.

* * *

The time to use a Cascaret is when you first suspect you need one.

The only way to have them ready to use precisely when you need them is to carry them constantly in your pocket, as you do a Watch or a Lead pencil.

The ten cent box of Cascarets is made thin, flat, round-edged, and small, for this precise purpose.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

A WARNING AGAINST THE DEALER WHO SUBSTITUTES

A dealer in a large city told our Advertising Manager that he was the "arch substitutor" and proud of it.

"Why", said he, "people don't know what they want. When they ask for JAP-A-LAC, I tell them it's no good, that I have something better. If they insist on JAP-A-LAC, I show them the contents of an old can of JAP-A-LAC I have had open for years, and from which the pure turpentine has been allowed to evaporate. Then I have no difficulty."

Fine dealer, that fellow. Would you trade with him, if you knew who he is? We think not.

NET CHANGE WAS SMALL IN COTTON

Market Continued Nervous But Trading Was Less Active.

After Irregular Fluctuations the Closing Prices Were Steady at a Decline of 4 Points to an Advance of 2 Points.

New York, April 24.—The cotton market showed continued nervousness during today's session, but trading was less active and the net change small. Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 and the market closed steady at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 2 points. The opening was steady at an advance of 4 points to a decline of 1 point, all the near months being higher in response to higher cables, while thhe new crop was relatively easy owing to continued favorable weather in the south. There were overnigh tselling orders in the market at the opening, local bears were disposed to be aggressive and there was continued liquidation which was promoted by easiness in the stock market. Prices soon showed a net decline of about 4@6 points under this pressure with May selling at 10.97 and July at 10.81 or a new low level for the movement and between 40 and 50 points down from the high level of last week. There was covering enough at the decline to rally the market in connection with Liverpool buying, presumably on thhe differences and the market rallied, reaching 11.08 for May and 10.95 for July in the early afternoon after the publication o fthe weekly report of the weather bureau, which read a little less bearishly than expected. light estimates for tomorrow's receipts at leading points and reports of steady southern spot conditions. The advance brought out a renewal of selling for long account, however, and the market eased off again before the colse with last prices only 2 to 6 points up from the lowest on the near positions.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, April 24.—Spot cotton quiet and steady. Sales 2,600 bales, including 1,400 to arrive. Quotations unchanged; middling 11 1-8c.

Futures opened dull and prices were 3 to 4 points lower than yesterday's closing. The weekly weather report showed light frost in the Carolinas and Alabama, and this caused prices to advance 8 to 10 points. Trading was light in the afternoon and prices eased off until most of the improvement had been lost. The market closed quiet with net gains of 1 to 2 points.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, April 24.—A normal demand for domestic goods, combined with the possible delay in deliveries from mills on account of the growing scarcity of labor, adds more firmness to the dry goods market today. The export demand was very light. Printed goods sold better and cotton yarns were scarce and firm, spinners holding for higher prices.

BUSINESS ACTIVE IN EARLY TRADING

During Which Time a Sharp Decline Occurred.

From the Low Point of the Day There Was a Quick Recovery on Some Relief from the Pressure of Liquidation.

New York, April 24.—The stock market enjoyed some relief from pressure on liquidation today but not until prices had been driven [illegible] lower point than at any time since the news of the San Francisco disaster. This was during the first hour, in which business was at a high rate of activity. From the low level touched at that time there was a quick recovery to the neighborhood of last night's level. Advances beyond that point were slow and on a moderate volume of business. The buying decreased as prices arose above the level offering profit to the largest part of the speculative bear movement. There was no important new development in the recent tenor of the news, and the market continued under the dominant influence of the many varying consequences. There was believed to be liquidation in progress today as well as yesterday for direct account of some of the insurance companies. The effect was particularly marked in the bond department and in high grade investment stocks of the kind usually held in the treasuries of corporation. It is pointed out that current market prices the investment yiled on seeurities is below the interest rate for time loans in the money market. It was also pointed out that with the necessary period yet to elapse before adjustment of losses can be made at San Francisco, the additional period allowed for their payment, the necessity for realizing on assets of the insurance companies is not immediate. That considerable selling of this character remains to be effective, however, is generally believed, with natural repressive effect on a speculative buying of stocks. The expectation of large earnings for the first quarter of the year to be reported by the United States Steel Corporation helped its stocks. Not much of the day's gains were retained after a selling movement during the final hour and the market closed heavy and dull.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,475,000.

United States old 4s declined 1-8, the new 4s registered 1-2. The coupon 3-4 per cent on call.

Gibert & Clay.

New Orleans, April 24.—COTTON.—Cables, while noting some satisfaction the improvement in prices in Liverpool, were nevertheless inclined to view the present market with some misgiving and rather expected lower levels on account of the very favorable weather conditions and the fact that speculation has been checked materially by the great disaster that has befallen San Francisco. Options were lower than the previous day's close by 2 points, while 10,000 bales of spots were sold at a decline of 5 points. Our market on the opening, failed to respond to the surprisingly good showing made abroad, but soon thereafter some support in the shape of scattered buying brought about a healthy reaction which, in the nature of things, was more or less expected when the rather severe decline of yesterday is remembered, and the additional strength resulted from good buying reported in the eastern market. Taken as a whole, the government's weekly report of the weather was exceedingly favorable, only here and there were reports received indicating a lack of moisture, while the apparent frequency of rains in Texas was considered beneficial. The numerous attempts that have been made to further advance prices, even when all conditions have been favorable, have resulted in little more than temporary improvement, while on the other hand, declines have been brought about without excessive pressure, being seemingly so easy of accomplishment that public opinion, having been sorely tried by much heralded bull campaigns, has found some consolation in adhering to that side which finds more favor in the eyes of the traders generally.

WHEAT WAS EASY TRADE DRAGGING

Initial Prices Showed a Fractional Decline.

Strength Developed Toward the Middle of the Session on Damage Reports from Southwest, Resulting in a Sharp Advance. Corn Higher.

Chicago, April 24.—Reports of damage to the crop by dry weather in the southwest caused an advance today of over 1c per bushel in the price of wheat here. At the close the July option was precisely 1c above yesterday's price. July corn and oats were each up 1-8c. Provisions were 2 1-2c higher to 7 1-2c lower.

Strength in wheat developed toward the middle of the session. Prior to that time trading was of a dragging character and the tone of the market was easy. The early weakness was due to lower cables, a slack demand for cash wheat and favorable weather for seeding in the northwest. One of the principle reasons for the sharp upturn was found in reports from the winter wheat sections, where it is claimed the crop is being damaged by high winds and dry weather. Another influential factor was the statement of the world's visible suply of breadstuffs, as shown by Bradstreet's. According to this authority the world's stocks have decreased 3,514,000 bushels, and of this amount it was claimed the American stocks decreased nearly 3,500,000 bushels. These advices started active short covering. The greatest demand was for distant deliveries. As offerings were rather light, prices advanced rapidly. The market continued active and strong, the remainder of the day, at the close prices were only a little below the highest point of the day. July opened a shade to 1-8@1-4c lower at 78 3-8@78 1-2c; advanced to 79 3-8@79 3-4c and closed at 79 1-2@79 5-8c. May ranged between 78 1-2@80c and closed at a gain of 1 1-8c at 79 7-8c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 109,000 bushels. Primary receipts 281,000 bushels, compared with 290,000 the corresponding day a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 245 cars, against 222 cars last week and 311 a year ago.

Notwithstanding liberal local receipts the corn market was steady the greater part of the day. An official forecast of wet weather tomorrow was the main steadying influence. The volume of trading was small and a large percentage of the business consisted of changing from the May to July option. The market closed steady. July opened unchanged at 46 1-8c, advanced to 46 3-8c and closed at 46 1-4c. May sold between 46 3-4@46 7-8c and 47 1-8@47 1-4c and closed at 47 1-8c. Local receipts were 226 cars, with 32 of contract grade.

Predictions of rain tomorrow induced moderate buying of oats today and caused a firm tone in the market for the grain. A leading bull was the principal purchaser. July opened at 30 5-8c, sold between 30 1-2@30 5-8c and 30 3-4c and closed at 30 3-4c. May ranged between 31 7-8@32c and 32 1-4c, where it closed. Local receipts, 245 cars.

Provisions were weak. Late in the session a firmer tone developed, however, and the market recovered the greater part of an early decline. At the close July pork was off 5@7 1-2c at $15.81 1-2 @$15.85. Lard was up a shade at $8.60@$8.62 1-2. Ribs were 2 1-2@5c lower at $8.65.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 1 car; corn 80 cars; oats 76 cars; hogs 30,000 head.

The leading futures ranged as follows.

Ware & Leland.

New York, April 24.—COTTON—Somewhat more favoring financial conditions and a less hysterical sentiment over the calamity on the Pacific coast led to a steadier cotton market. Early in the day an effort was made to bring out cotton on stop loss orders, and operators sold July down to 10.81 before it was evident that an effort to cover was likely to advance the market. On the rise shorts covered and July was up 14 or 15 points before traders succeeded in covering cotton sold on the early decline. New crops were particularly steady, and in every way the day's market was a repetition of that for some time past. There seemed to be nothing in the way of news to change the prevailing belief that cotton will be taken on May contracts on Friday and under these circumstances an open break in the market can hardly be expected. As long as weather in the south continues favorable the new crops will be for sale on any advance above 11c. It does not seem as though the time was propitious for general bull speculation, and the wiser traders on the floor are taking a scalping attitude on the new crop months, buying on all weak spots and taking profits on any good rise. This will be a paying operation for months to come.

New York, April 24.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points in response to lower French cables and rather full primary receipts. There was some nearby liquidation and selling for European account, but trade interests were buying and the market showed little change near the close, when it was slightly easier under heavier offerings for long account. The market was finally steady at a net declines of 5 points; sales 115,250 bags; May 6.55@6.60; July 6.80; September 7.00; October 7.10; December 7.25@7.40; March 7.50@7.55. THE BIG CHIEF MANHATTAN MINING COMPANY
OF MANHATTAN, NEVADA

Announces the sale of 100,000 shares of treasury stock at seventy-five cents per share.

The proceeds of which are to be used in the development of the Company's claims.

The Company owns 80 acres of valuable mineral land immediately adjoining Contention Hill, the richest in all Southern Nevada, and is surrounded by the Manhattan Consolidated, with its 34 feet of high-grade ore, the Manhattan Red Top, the Granny, the richest portion of the Dexter's ground, the Manhattan Mizpah and the Manhattan Consolidated Extension, on which a strike just made exposes six feet of excellent ore and no wall yet in sight.

Outcroppings of two ledges can be distinctly traced for more than 1,000 feet across the Big Chief group of claim, through the Granny and the Consolidated Extension, into the Consolidated.

Pannings of free gold have been made on these outcroppings for several hundred feet by prominent engineers and other visitors to the Manhattan Camp.

The Company is incorporated for 1,000,000 shares, par value $1.50, 300,000 shares of which are treasury reserve. The sum of $100,000 in cash, aside from other consideration, was paid for this ground, making it the highest price paid for undeveloped property in either Goldfield or Manhattan.

BIG CHIEF'S STRONG DIRECTORATE

The officers of the Company are: President, E. A. ("Bob") Montgomery, original locater and chief owner of the famous Montgomery-Shoshone mines and Shoshone-Polaris mine at Bullfrog, so recently purchased by Chas. M. Schwab, and merged into the Montgomery-Shoshone Consolidated Mining Company, in which Mr. Montgomery is an owner and director.

Vice-President, Malcolm L. Macdonald, eminent mining engineer who, as part owner, developed the Montgomery-Shoshone mine, consummated the sale to Mr. Schwab, and is now director in that property.

Treasurer, Arthur G. Rayeraft, cashier of the Nye & Ormsby County Bank of Tonopah, Goldfield and Manhattan.

Secretary, Louis Lefkovits.

Director, J. H. Macmillian.

A force of miners is now at work doing prospecting and rushing the development of the company's ledges.

PRESIDENT "BOB" MONTGOMERY'S VIEWS ON BIG CHIEF:

President Montgomery, of the Big Chief Company, spent two days in an examination and inspection of the property and directed the immediate work of the miners there. In speaking of this property, Mr. Montgomery said:

"The Big Chief group of claims seem to be in the Consolidated zone and there is no doubt but that the ledges running through the Consolidated, and from which so much rich ore is obtained, are the same as those outcropping on the Big Chief group and from which free gold is panned for so many hundred feet.

"With the many ledges outcropping on the Big Chief estate the probability is that that Company's acreage will prove to be one of the big mines of the district. The boundaries have been investigated and since there is no conflict, development work will be prosecuted very vigorously with a view to proving the merit of this ground in the shortest possible time."

EDITOR SPRAGUE'S OPINION OF BIG CHIEF:

Editor Sprague of the Goldfield News in a special article on Manhatan six weeks ago said:

"These are the principal hills and the principal mines of the camp as now disclosed, although other good properties, by reason of limitations of space, cannot be mentioned. Manhattan Peak, up the gulch from Injunction Hill, is where a group of claims called the Big Chief, owned by Malcolm Macdonald, looms up. I panned gold on three ledges on this group, one of which runs across the gulch. The hill is now being explored by Naughton and Rakestraw, among the best mining men in the camp. Other hills in the immediate vicinity will likely prove to be big producers; they have not as yet been explored as the snow has been too deep all winter to admit of prospecting, and the summer months should record many new and sensational finds in the sensational camp of Manhattan."

THE OPINION OF A WALL STREET BROKER ON BIG CHIEF

J. C. Weir, head of the firm of Weir Bros. & Co., a prominent New York Wall Street Broker, who visited Manhattan last week, in speaking of the various mining properties here, in an interview in the Manhattan Mail, said:

"One of the most beautiful things I have seen in your camp was a large tray containing the richest quartz sprinkled with gold that I have ever seen in my life, which has come from the Big Chief Manhattan Mining Company. I thought so much of the exhibit that I secured it and have expressed it to Wall Street, that the public there may get an intelligent idea of just how gold is found in its original richness. I am going to try and use these specimens as an object lesson in showing our people how, while this is characteristic of certain capabilities on these lines, it is likewise characteristic of how such sights as these draw out the headlines that the streets are paved with gold.

"In my judgment, it would certainly be a cold-hearted man who could come into this camp and do other than praise your people for the magnificent showings you have made within ninety days in the legitimate mining of gold."

APPLICATION FOR CHARTER.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—To Hon. Phillip Cook, Secretary of State, of Georgia:
The petition of S. F. Pirkle, of Gwinnett county; M. D. Irwin, of Jackson county; D. L. McDaniel, of Fulton county; J. W. McDaniel, of Texas, and R. H. Pirkle, of Gwinnett county, respectfully shows:
1. That they desire for themselves, their associates and successors, to be incorporated under the laws of Georgia under the name of THE CITIZENS' MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY.
2. The kind of insurance business they propose to carry on shall be that which is incident to a fraternal beneficiary order, national and international. The order shall have initiative and degree ritualism, fraternal and sacred obligations, signs and ceremonies, under which there shall be united people of sound health, good morals and high character, and these obligations may extend to social as well as beneficiary members.
3. There shall be a supreme council, in which shall be vested the power to regulate the condition of membership, to provide plans for the organization of subordinate bodies, to adopt constitution and by-laws, and to promote, control and supervise the general operation of the organization.
4. The supreme council shall be composed of the officers of that body and such other members of the society as the constitution and by-laws may provide.
5. There shall be no capital stock, but the resources of the corporation shall be of three classes—(1) The mortuary fund, collected by assessment, out of which the death claims under the beneficiary certificates will be paid; (2) the reserve fund, out of which the sick benefit, old age and accident claims will be paid; (3) the promotion or expense fund, out of which will be paid all expenses in the organization and conduct of the society. All mortuary assessments shall be applied as follows: Eighty per cent to discharge beneficiary certificates, 10 per cent to reserve fund for sick, accident and old-age benefits, 10 per cent to promotion fund. All extra assessments shall go into the reserve fund for payment of claims arising under that department.
6. The business of the order shall be under the control and direction of the supreme council. The president of the supreme council shall have authority to contract with members of that body or with members of subordinate bodies for conducting the work of promoting and carrying on the business of the society, provided no such contract can affect the beneficiary fund set apart to discharge beneficiary certificates.
7. The incorporators shall be authorized to perform all the duties of the supreme council until the election of officers of that body, who shall have full control.
8. Your petitioners further show that they intend in good faith to go forward without delay to organize said society, and they pray to be incorporated under the laws of this state, with all the powers thereby given to fraternal beneficiary orders.
9. Your petitioners show that they have given the thirty days' notice of their intention to apply for this charter, by publication of this petition in The Atlanta Constitution, the paper publishing the legal advertisements of Fulton county, where

L. J. Anderson & Co.

New York, April 24.—The weekly government weather report was rather bullishly interpreted, and this together with the spasmodic recovery in the stock market and conflicting rumors indicating that some of the larger longs had completed their selling helped the cotton market after an early streak of weakness today. However, throughout the day there was more or less nervousness among the smaller interests and on the firm spots there was considerable scattered liquidation. The trade as a whole was active and well distributed. The cables were about as expected while the receipts were fair. Spot interests are still eager after supplies according to well informed floor traders and some of these spots interests may be held responsible for recent declines in speculative prices. The statistical position of cotton is strong and with the May delivery period rapidly approaching some traders are beginning to wonder where the shorts will get their cotton from. In the later part of the session some of the pit traders took advantage of the firm level and dumped fair lines on the market, and as the supporters of the bull faith were not looking for such action there was a return to an undercurrent of weakness in which condition the market closed.

STOCKS—During the early trading there was further liquidation and security prices were inclined to show further weakness. This was helped along by a further raid from the bear forces, but at the lower level there was so much short covering and support from the big interests that prices rallied rapidly, closing at a substantial gain for the day. The rally may be carried some further but should this occur short sales should prove profitable.
